When You Buy Land
Mr. Denby Resigns
The "If" Candidates
The Death Chair Fails

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 19.—When you read in this column advice to buy land, please bear in mind that the advice is buy land after you have actually seen it. Get the opinion of expert real estate men if it is city property, of the Agricultural Department and of neighbors if it is farming land.

Don't buy land by mail or from plausible salesmen that come to your door. If you do, you will be cheated and regret it.

MR. DENBY'S resignation clears up the political situation for President Coolidge, and the resignation was inevitable, if only because the interests of the Republican party could not be sacrificed for the sake of one man.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE is as fortunate in conditions that face the Democratic party as he is in the fact that the public, thus far, holds him free of all responsibility in the oil scandal.

What is supposed to be the elimination of Mr. McAdoo actually leaves the Democrats without any recognized conspicuous candidate, with the convention only a few months away.

NEARLY every Democrat mentioned is an "if" candidate.

They say Senator Copeland might get it IF it should prove impossible to nominate "Al" Smith.

Senator Reed of Missouri, undoubtedly the most forceful and available candidate, might get it IF he had not made so many enemies.

Each of his enemies is a credit to him, but there is a theory that a candidate to be available should be colorless.

IT IS said that William Jennings Bryan might be drafted, because of his known capacity to get votes, IF he had not been Secretary of State.

Nominated or not, Mr. Bryan will have a good deal to say about the man that is nominated and also about several that will not be nominated.

A VIENNA scientist declares that so-called electric executions are not executions at all. Electricity produces only the symptoms of death. This man, Professor Jellinik, has resuscitated several men officially declared dead from electric shock.

MEN SENTENCED to the electric chair are actually buried alive, says the professor. Fortunately it does not matter much, for they cannot possibly regain consciousness, it the grave.

In addition they are usually dissected by doctors in the prison, eager to investigate.

And that dissection, which includes cutting off the top of the head, certainly kills.

THE danger of this earthly career is not being buried alive, although many dread it. The danger is going through life as though you were really dead. Many do that.

GENTLEMEN recently disappointed in oil enterprises, perhaps doomed to disgorge recent naval acquisitions, may take heart.

DAUGHERTY READY TO GET OUT

Attorney-General Is Called to a Special Cabinet Meeting by President

Washington, Feb. 19.—Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty will "have a statement to make" immediately after today's Cabinet meeting, it was announced at the Department of Justice.

It is understood that the Attorney-General will consult the opinion of the President and his colleagues of the Cabinet as to whether he should resign, and will be guided according to His statement will be based, it is understood, on whatever develops at this meeting.

Daugherty told friends he had no intention of resigning, but added that the one thing that could cause a change in his plans would be for President Coolidge to indicate that his retirement would be a welcome relief to the administration.

ACUTE SITUATION.

The demand for resignation of Daugherty suddenly has become one of the most acute of all the questions growing out of the oil scandal.

Protests against Daugherty's continuance in office have come to the White House from several new sources.

Within the past two days Mr. Coolidge has consulted many senators and others regarding the future conduct of the Department of Justice, and Mr. Daugherty himself has received advice from several of those who are prominent in the conduct of the affairs of his party.

Just before the cabinet meeting, Owen J. Roberts and Atlee Pomerene, special government counsel in the oil cases, conferred with President Coolidge. There was every indication that what they told the President would be passed on by him to the meeting of his official advisers.

DANGEROUS TO PARTY.

In some quarters it is considered inevitable that the Attorney-General will have to follow Denby into retirement; in others it is held that there can be no more Cabinet resignations without the appearance of the whole Republican administration being indicted.

The Attorney-General's status is admittedly considerably different from that of Secretary Denby. The latter was directly involved in the Boston police are inclined to attach some significance to the finding among the effects of Charles Anderson, a vaudeville producer, who died at the Haymarket Square Relief Station of the City Hospital from the effects of a self-administered dose of carbolic acid, a newspaper clipping containing the picture of a pretty young woman and bearing this heading:

PAYMASTER ON GAY PARTIES

Reading Chief Declares Missing Anderson Is Celebrating In Boston's South End

While police of many cities are searching for Arthur A. Anderson of Lynn, missing paymaster of the F. J. Basker Shoe Company of Reading, that young man is apparently leading a gay young life right in Boston.

According to Chief of Police Jeremiah Cullinane of the Reading police, Anderson, after disappearing Saturday morning with the shoe company's payroll of $4,883, promptly proceeded to stage a party on an elaborate scale.

Taxicabs, roadhouses and moonshine comprised the program the paymaster mapped out for himself, according to Chief Cullinane.

From the first the chief has declared that Anderson simply walked away from the First National Bank of Reading with the money. He scouted the theory of foul play and robbery and the evidence he has turned up would indicate that his theory is 100 per cent. correct.

TAXICAB CRUISE.

Anderson, after drawing the money from the bank, made his way to the North Station, according to the chief, where he chartered a taxicab and proceeded to make a round of places where Mr. Valstead's name is never mentioned.

The devious taxicab cruise finally ended at the Hotel Savoy, where Anderson paid the taxi driver $24. The clerk at the Savoy refused to give the supposed Anderson a room. That is where the trail ends as far as Chief Cullinane is concerned.

The chief is of the opinion that Anderson, refused a room at the hotel, cruised about, probably in the South End, and finally located a room, either in a hotel or a rooming house. And the search for the missing man is now being centred in this quarter.

Since the disappearance of Anderson was first reported a close watch has been kept on every train and boat leaving Boston, and the police

CAMBRIDGE 'HEALER' ALSO PAPER HANGER

A combination painter, paper-hanger and "healer," is Charles Pencille, now flourishing at No. 896 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge.

Pencille, who has added the title "M. T." to his name, specializes on the treatment of rheumatism, neuralgia, poor circulation and nervous ailments.

Although he first displayed his sign as a "M. T." some years ago, Pencille has never attended a medical school, as far as can be learned.

Neither has he considered it necessary to bring his own case to the attention of the Massachusetts State Board of Registration in Medicine.

STILL DOES PAINTING

While Pencille lives at the Massachusetts avenue apartment, his wife, three daughters and a son live in a tenement in another section of the city.

"Healer" Pencille does not labor under any delusions as to the dig-

PRINCE IS HELD FOR HOTEL BILL

Troubles Increased by Faithless Friend Who Runs Away With His B. V. D.s

Prince Seimon Nicholas Korsakoff shivered today under the eyes of Inspector Gleavy at police headquarters.

The Prince was charged with defrauding an inn—the Copley Plaza—in connection with a matter of room rent not forthcoming. But that was not why he shivered.

"Do you mind—" and his voice was politely hesitant—"Do you mind if I step over into the sun?"

The inspector, who was about to question him, looked up suspiciously. "What's the matter?" he asked.

The Prince hesitated again a bit. "I'm chilled," he explained, then shyly. "You see, that other fellow, when he left me, took my B. V. D.'s with him."

"Would that there were more sun," sympathized the inspector—and the Prince moved into the grateful morning glow.

It was warmer at the Copley-Plaza, of course, which may have been the reason why the Prince had to give up his quarters even after his funds had run out. For run out they did, on the Prince's own word. And then his now-found friend and boon companion, son of a Boston business man, ran out, too.

POLICE TRAIL B. V. D.'S.

But he carried with him the B. V. D.'s that the Prince missed at police headquarters—for headquarters is a cold place any time—even on warm days—when one is a customer and not merely a friendly visitor.

Still the Prince has some consolation. Inspectors Dorney and Augusta, who arrested him at the hotel, are out searching for the youth with the intimate apparel. They have a warrant for him, but the charges is not revealed. So he and the Prince will meet again.

From the prince today the inspec-

ATLANTIC BOY HANGS SELF TO A BEAM

Parents Find 15-Year-Old Son's Body Suspended by Electric Wire

John Finch, fifteen-year-old high school student, was found hanging from a beam in the basement of his home at No. 4 Walker place, Atlantic, when his father and mother returned from the theatre.

Quincy police announced today that the boy was a suicide. He had ended his life by twisting an electric light wire around his neck and attaching the other end to a beam overhead.

No motive has yet been determined. Mrs. Elger Finch, the boy's mother, is prostrated.

The friends of young Finch could give no possible reason for his act. The lad was quiet by nature. He was slight, but was not in ill health.

Elger Finch, the boy's father, believes it possible the tragedy resulted from an accident, that his son ran into the loop formed by the cord as it hung down in the dark.

8 CHILDREN PERISH IN FLAMES

Victims Are Trapped as Fire Sweeps Through Tenement Block In New York City

New York, Feb. 19.—Eight children, four women and one man lost their lives today in a fire which swept through an eight-family five-story tenement at No. 379 Madison street on the lower East Side. Of the eight children who died, some of them in agony, one was an infant.

Police believe the blaze was set by a pyromaniac who is held responsible for other recent tenement fires.

William Barrett, whose entire family of six was wiped out, jumped to his death from a fourth-story window. His wife, Nelly, was found with an infant clasped tightly to her breast.

The complete list of dead follows:

William Barrett, thirty-five; Mrs. Nellie Barrett, forty; Margaret Barrett, ten; Catherine Barrett, five; William Barrett, Jr., one year old; Felix Harkowy, eleven; Mrs. Alexander Harkowy, thirty-five; Frank Harkowy, sixteen; Tony Harkowy, twelve; Julius Berger, thirty-five; Mrs. Julius Berger, thirty; Mrs. Bessie Silth, forty; Berger, a boy, fourteen.

SUSPECT IS ARRESTED.

Louis Choenfield, who calls himself a newsboy, and on whose person the police found army discharge papers and a small bottle containing a white powder, was arrested as he ran from the building, shortly after the discovery of the fire. Choenfield's head was bandaged. Earlier in the night, he said, he had been in a street fight and had nine leasing of the Naval oil reserve, he defended them to the last and he consented to retire only when his position became untenable through the institution of legal proceedings to undo his work.

Daugherty's connection with the leases is remote—he denies ever having even been consulted—and therefore his friends argue that the motives that induced Denby to retire cannot be made to apply in the case of the Attorney-General.

Oil Stock Gamble Involves Many Officials

Washington, Feb. 19 (I.N.S.)—A new batch of thrills and sensations was promised today as the Senate

Senator Borah Atty.-Gen. Daugherty

Public Lands Committee resumed its investigation of the great oil scandal.

Abandoning the recess the committee met behind closed doors, to cross-examine several prominent New York stock brokers and financiers with the expectation of getting additional light upon stock gambling activities of high Federal officers.

If able to adduce the information anticipated, committee members declared sensational revelations would follow that would dwarf into virtual insignificance any previous testimony produced.

HIGH OFFICIALS INVOLVED.

Information has been received by the committee that the books of certain New York brokerage houses would show that not only cabinet officers and senators, but ranking officials in many governmental departments, profited in oil stock deals in the period just previous to the leasing of Teapot Dome by Ex-Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall to Harry F. Sinclair on April 7, 1922.

Among those under subpoena to appear at the executive session were Harry Payne Whitney, millionaire Turfman, and business associate of Sinclair, Elmer E. Smathers, J. Phillip Benkard and Harry B. Benkard, New York brokers; and th office manager and order clerk of J. P. Benkard and Company of New York.

McLEAN DENIES REPORT.

E. B. McLean, wealthy Washington and Cincinnati newspaper owner, who is under a subpoena, issued a blanket denial of reports that his attorney, Wilton T. Lambert, gave the committee "information of a startling character."

In the face of this denial, members of the committee admitted they had been in consultation with Lambert over the week-end and declared that following these conferences, information involving a cabinet officer in oil stock dealings had been given. Senators and other high officials also were involved.

stitches taken in his head at some hospital.

He was later released from custody.

ROARING FURNACE.

The flames shot up through the stairway and hallways and in a few minutes conditions were such as to make it impossible for any of the tenants to open their doors. When the firemen arrived, flames were spurting through the roof. The screams of the injured and the dying, together with the terrifying sight of the structure, which looked like a roaring furnace, caused an exodus of tenants from adjacent buildings.

One of the first families to realize the danger was that of Harry Schwartz, 78 years old, who lived with his wife, Yetta, 66 years old, on the second floor. In their nightclothes, they walked into the smoke-filled hall and aroused their next-door neighbors. Then they stepped out of their windows to a narrow cornice above stores which were on the ground floor. Inch by inch they crawled along their perilous path to the tenement next door.

Although the flames shut up four flights of stairs, destroying the staircase on the way, they did not begin to spread until they reached the fourth and fifth floors. In tenements on these floors lived most of those who lost their lives.

The bodies of nine victims were found piled up together in a flame-swept hallway.

The most heroic of several brave deeds performed at the fire was that of Sylvester Connell, who, awakened by his wife when she heard the screams of terror-stricken women, rushed to the roof and, leaning over the edge, saw Alexander Hocki immediately below him on the fire escape. Hocki had collapsed, after trying to save some of the other tenants.

DRAGS MAN TO SAFETY.

With an almost superhuman effort Connell braced himself and dragged the unconscious man to safety.

One child who jumped from a fourth-story window was caught in the arms of Fire Lieutenant Flatt and hurried to Gouverneur Hospital, where it is reported the little one may survive its injuries.

The body of a woman who had jumped from the building was found this morning in the courtyard.

Mrs. Raymond Porfelowsky was a heroine of the fire. Awakened by flames she sought to lead her 75-year-old mother to safety. The aged woman, overcome by smoke, fainted.

thirty-two years old, of Salisbury, chauffeur for Irving N. Case of Amesbury.

The injured, two of whom are missing and being sought by the Methuen police, are:

Henry Burke, eighteen, of Pearl street, Amesbury.

Francis Kelleher, sixteen, Boardman street, Amesbury.

George Bernard, nineteen, Congress street, Amesbury.

"Red" McEneaney, twenty-two, Elm street, Amesbury.

Bernard, declared by one of the party to have been driving after drinking in Lawrence with Supry and McEneaney, disappeared with McEneaney following the accident. The wheel had been turned over to Bernard by Supry, the chauffeur, according to the story told Police Chief James W. Riley of Methuen by Kelleher.

Kelleher and Burke are at the Lawlor Hospital, the former with a fractured right leg and the latter with a broken collarbone and numerous abrasions.

According to Kelleher, he, Burke, Bernard and McEneaney were in an Amesbury lunchroom shortly before midnight when Supry drove up in an open machine and asked the four if they cared to go for a ride.

They assented and the party rolled over the road to Lawrence. In Lawrence, according to Kelleher, Supry, Bernard and McEneaney had something to drink.

The party started back for Amesbury shortly after 4 o'clock when, Kelleher said, they could find no more places open. Kelleher declares he dozed on the way home, but he knew the machine was traveling at high speed.

Near the Russell farm is a dangerous curve. There Kelleher said, the machine skidded, sliding more than 100 feet before one of the rear wheels snapped, overturning the car.

Supry was pinned beneath and died without a cry. Kelleher found himself under the machine, but he had not been crushed. He managed to crawl out.

Bernard and McEneaney, hurled out of the wrecked car, made off in the darkness, according to Kelleher, who said they apparently were in jured.

Yorkers and frequenter of Broadway cabarets, whose body was found two weeks ago in an expensive apartment near Central Park West. Her slayers have not been apprehended.

Anderson, who carried this clipping with him, killed himself a few hours before Virginia, his pretty young wife and mother of their nine-months'-old baby, was to have made her debut in Boston as a burlesque performer. He was 37 years old and lived at No. 815 Chase street, Chicago.

BEGGED HER TO QUIT.

Mrs. Anderson, who was to be known professionally as "Kay Norman," is only 21.

The suicide took place in the Hotel Commonwealth on Beacon Hill, following the man's last ineffective plea to his girl wife to leave the burlesque and come home to their baby.

The burlesque show Mrs. Anderson had signed up with is "Hippity Hop," a Peck & Kolb enterprise, playing this week at Waldron's Casino.

According to the gossip of theatrical folk the girl already had left Anderson and was singing and dancing in a Philadelphia cafe when her beauty and vivacity attracted the attention of Matt Kolb. One story is to the effect that Kolb offered her a larger opportunity with "Hippity Hop," picturing, among other things, the still better chances that might come her way when the show goes into New York next week for a date not far from Broadway. Another version is that Mrs. Anderson pleaded for the opportunity and got it.

FOLLOWED HER HERE.

Promptly, the young entertainer wrote home to Anderson of her "good luck," and quite as promptly the husband began his remonstrances. He sent several telegrams, wrote some frantic letters and rushed them along by special delivery. Finally he hurried to New York and on to Boston.

Through inquiries at the theatre Anderson learned that several young women of the "Hippity Hop" company were staying at the Hotel Commonwealth. He went there and found his wife in her room.

They had the same old quarrel all over again. Yes, she loved the baby, but she wanted a "career." She wasn't going to be "tied down."

"That's final?" he said.

"Final," said the girl, "I've signed a contract with this show and I'm going to stick. Why, they've even prepared a special number for me!"

Anderson left her. He was gone about ten minutes. When he came back he had a small vial with him. "Well, Kay," he said, "here's wishing you all the luck in the world!" Then he swallowed the contents of the little bottle and fell at her feet.

COOLIDGE PLEA FOR TAX PACT IGNORED

Republican Insurgents Refuse to Join Regular G. O. P. on Mellon Plan

Washington, Feb. 19.—An eleventh hour appeal by the White House today to House Republican insurgent leaders urging agreement with the organization Republicans on the Mellon income tax rate schedule failed to break the deadlock between the groups.

As the income rates of the revenue bill were taken up in the House, Republican leaders admitted the vote would be close, with the Democrats united for the Garner Democratic plan and the insurgents still holding out against the treasury rates and threatening to vote with the Democrats if their compromise was not accepted.

GIRL IS WATCHED

Meantime, his sweetheart—the girl he was soon to wed—still declares that Anderson is innocent of any wrongdoing and that he has met with foul play.

The girl, Miss Marie Stafford, is prostrated at her home in Revere. The police are watching the home in the belief Anderson eventually will make an effort to communicate with her.

An audit of the books of the Basker Shoe Company has shown that Anderson's accounts with the firm are in perfect order. Immediately following the disappearance of the paymaster, special accountants were put at work on the books and their investigations revealed that if Anderson really did slip from the straight and narrow path his operations consisted only of the weekly payroll.

Anderson is thirty-five years of age, is five feet ten and a half inches tall and weighs about 180 pounds. He wears glasses with large lenses. His hair is light brown and is rather thin on the top, while his complexion is ruddy. He is smooth-shaven.

Chief Cullinane declared the arrest of Anderson in Boston was only a matter of hours.

(See later editions of the American for further developments in the Anderson disappearance.)

SEARCH ROXBURY HOME

Reading police appeared at the Roxbury Crossing police station and said they expected Anderson either was or had been in a house in Shawmut avenue near Ruggles street.

Accompanied by Special Officer Mahoney and Sergeant Kerrigan, the Reading patrolmen went to the Shawmut avenue address.

Anderson was not found, but Lillian Walker of Medford, Mary Pruchlin of Commonwealth avenue and Morris Brown of "Harrison avenue" were arrested on disorderly charges.

CONTROVERSY HURTS PRESBYTERIAN FUND

New York, Feb. 19.—Failure to obtain a third of the $15,000,000 sought, due, it is suggested, to lack of confidence of former contributors in the West because of current religious controversy, will force the Presbyterian church to curtail its foreign mission work drastically, starting April 1.

Members of sixty-three of the sixty-five metropolitan Presbyterian congregations were so informed by Dr. Robert W. Speer, secretary of the board of foreign missions, in an appeal for assistance. He said the contributions so far were less than $4,500,000.

SILENT BABY CENTRAL FIGURE IN 4-CORNERED MARITAL MIXUP

'FATHER' TO SUE FOR CHILD

Lyman Claims Youngster Whom Dr. Keach Acknowledges as His Son

Horace Lyman of Beverly has retained former District Attorney S. Howard Donnell of Peabody as counsel and will at once institute proceedings for the custody of the baby boy heretofore known as the son of Dr. Frederick P. Keach, prominent Salem dentist.

Lyman's newest suit completes the items of threatened litigation in a four-cornered marital mix-up such as Essex County has not known in years.

Mrs. Keach, who admits she is not the mother of the baby, is suing the dentist for divorce and has named the former Mrs. Lyman as co-respondent.

Lyman is suing Dr. Keach for dilnation.

Mrs. Lyman has obtained a divorce.

Dr. Keach says he was given to understand that the little boy was born by Mrs. Keach and is his own son.

BOY ONLY ONE SILENT.

Of all the interested parties, the baby, born in a Brooklyn, N. Y., hospital, is the only one who isn't talking.

"Before Mrs. Lyman left me, in January, 1923," Horace Lyman says "she had been pronounced an expectant by our physician and the baby was expected to arrive about six months later.

"One night I came home and found a note in which she informed me that she had 'gone forever,' and that I would not hear from her again.

"I learned that she had gone to New York and some months later, when she was seen again around Salem and Beverly, I was told she had reported the loss of the child by premature birth. Not until Mrs Keach made her charges and disclosures last week did I have reason to doubt that story. Since then I have been doing some investigating and I now am convinced that the boy is mine. I therefore intend to fight for him."

DENIES SHE IS MOTHER.

Mrs. Keach, the dentist's wife, is said to have admitted that the little one is not hers, that it was borne in a Brooklyn hospital by a woman she permitted to use her name there and that she and Dr. Keach brought it to Salem.

"Before Marion Northrup Lyman sued me for divorce," Lyman continues, "I had filed suit for $25,000 against Dr. Keach for alienating her affections and for that reason I made no appearance last month when Marion's suit for divorce came up. Now, I shall sue for divorce as well as for the custody of the boy.

"And, finally, in my report, if my divorce suit ever comes to trial, stories I shall reveal about the gay life of some Salem and Lynn gentlemen, who are the very essence of propriety in their home towns but 'hot dogs' when they reach some of the swell hotels of Boston and take out the bank roll, will hold that fascinated attention of this part of Essex County for several days.

(See American for further developments.)

ONLY A SOLOMON CAN SAY WHO OWNS BABY

MRS. HORACE LYMAN.
The alleged mother, now divorced. Her husband says she deceived him and is suing Keach for alienation.

"FREDDUMS" (KEACH OR LYMAN) AND OTHERS IN THE BIRTHRIGHT TANGLE

Mrs. Frederick P. Keach (upper left) admits the baby is not really hers, but she wants it. She says it was born to Mrs. Horace Lyman by mutual agreement and that Dr. Keach is the father. Dr. Keach (lower left) is being sued by Lyman (lower right), and Lyman says that if the baby was his wife's he wants it. The baby is the only one in the mixup who has "nothing to say."

world are said to have been discovered in China, covering several thousand square miles.

Those oil fields in Chinese Turkestan are supposed to be an extension of the famous Baku oil deposits.

Those Baku wells were used in ancient days by priests of the sun worshippers who deceived and impressed their followers by setting fire to the oil and the escaping gas.

SENATOR HARRIS of Georgia wants to investigate the Literary Digest, a weekly which asks people what they think. Senator Harris says the Digest spends $300,000, for postage stamps alone, to get the opinions of fifteen millions of voters on the Mellon tax plan, all for propaganda.

INVESTIGATION will prove to Senator Harris that the Digest has not bought $300,000 worth of stamps. But the Senator's suggestion interests advertisers. It makes them realize what newspaper advertising does in the way of economy, enabling them to reach the public with conspicuous announcements actually seen and read, at a fraction the cost of mailing circulars that are thrown in the waste basket.

W. A. McRAE, real agricultural expert, says that Palm Beach County in Florida is destined to be the greatest farm site county in all the Eastern part of the United States. That county has 1,750,000 acres, contains 300 miles of navigable waters, and hundreds of thousands of acres of black muck lands that will free untold millions indefinitely. One little enterprise under way in that biggest county on the East coast will interest small boys and elephants. It is the planting of 40,000 acres of Everglades land in peanuts.

'HEALER' TURNS PAPERHANGER IN DULL TIMES

nity of the profession which he has adopted.

When the business of "healing" becomes sluggish, he turns to his first choice and becomes a painter and paper-hanger again for a time.

While slapping on paint and paste, he thinks up new and more attractive phrases for advertising cards with which to lure the credulous to his "doctor's" office.

When business picks up, he packs away the tools of his first profession, and hangs out once more the sign reading:

"Charles Pencille, M. T., Special Treatment for Rheumatism."

His treatments consist of application of the violet ray and electric vibrators.

Pencille sprang into the medical world as a healer some years ago.

It was after he had been cured of rheumatism in a New York hospital.

He is quoted as having said there should be a fortune in the treatment of rheumatism.

Removing to Joy street in the West End, he hung out his shingle as an "M. T."

Patients were obtained through the medium of thousands of printed cards, which Pencille hired small boys to distribute from door to door.

These cards set forth the alleged capabilities of the "healer," and the cures which he claimed he could make.

Response on the part of the suffering public was not as hearty and enthusiastic as Pencille could have wished, with the result he moved the family to Roxbury.

MOVES ACROSS RIVER

Here he hung out another shingle which read:

"Charles Pencille, Painting and Paper-Hanging."

We next find him ministering to the lame and the halt on the second floor of the house at No. 528 Main street, Cambridge.

A swinging sign called attention to the fact that "Charles Pencille, M. T." specialized on rheumatism.

To the uninitiated "M. T." is very much like "M. D."

Apparently business was good for next Pencille was holding forth in a much better location at No. 826 Massachusetts avenue, Cambridge.

The house sets back from the street, and the Pencille apartment is on the first floor.

There are five rooms for which the "doctor" is said to pay $65 a month rent.

His wife pays $16 a month for the rent of the tenement in which she and the children exist, and she is forced to do laundry work to obtain the rent money.

PROMISES CURES

Pencille's work room, or operating room, is in the front of the house, in what was formerly the living room. It contains an operating table, a violet ray machine and an electric vibrator.

If patients are unable to visit his office, Pencille will give them treatment at home. He charges $2 at the office and $3 outside.

He uses methyl salicylate (synthetic wintergreen) for rubdowns and massages, claiming to make it himself.

This preparation, however, he purchases by the pound at a local drug store.

Pencille's cards read:

"Special Treatment for Rheumatism. Charles Pencille, M. T., 528 Mass. Ave., Telephone Cambridge 1551-M. Lumbago, Neuralgia, Nervousness, Poor Circulation, Neuritis.

"External treatment. No medicine internally. First treatment given free. Six to eight treatments have cured many cases. Hundreds of people cured by me. Call and investigate, and get the address of people I have cured; also talk with people I am now treating."

Pencille told the Boston American he was a licensed masseur, and made no attempt to practice medicine.

Asked what the letters "M. T." stood for, he replied:

"Massage Treatment."

According to Dr. Charles E. Prior, treatment of any disease, unless the practitioner is registered as a physician or osteopath, is a violation of Chapter 112 of the General Laws.

Happiness Apostle Jumps 4 Stories to His Death

New York, Feb. 19 (I.N.S.)—John S. Busky, famous as the "shoe maker," jumped from a fourth floor window at the Hotel Gramercy today and was instantly killed.

For many years, Busky was the poetic apostle of happiness. Railroad presidents, Wall street men, actors, statesmen and bankers—a veritable "Who's Who"—patronized his cobbler shop.

Business and domestic troubles are believed to have prompted his act.

ARTHUR, BACKER OF M'ADOO, IS OIL MAN

Democratic Leaders Surprised Walsh Sent Message Through Him

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Tom Arthur of Great Falls, Mont., delegate to the conference which indorsed William G. McAdoo for the Democratic presidential nomination here, and to whom Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, member of the Teapot Dome investigating committee, sent his indorsement of Mr. McAdoo, is an employe of the Continental Oil Company, according to the Chicago Daily Tribune.

"I'm an employe, not an executive," the Tribune quotes Mr. Arthur. "My job is to go around wherever I am sent negotiating for leases and rights of way."

He said he was a small stockholder in the Mutual Oil Company recently taken over by the Continental, according to the newspaper.

LEADERS SURPRISED.

"Democratic leaders opposed to McAdoo expressed surprise that Senator Walsh had sent his message through an oil man after so earnestly protesting against Attorney Silas H. Strawn and Thomas Gregory in Washington because he scented oil on them," said the Tribune.

Senator Walsh's telegram indorsing McAdoo said:

"I am committed to the candidacy of Mr. McAdoo, whose character is untouched by any revelation made before the Senate Committee investigating the Naval Oil Scandal," the Telegram said. "I should regard any effort to place any other progressive in the field as serving the interests of the Republican Party to divert the public mind from the inquities of the present administration as a contribution to the plan of the great interests allied to defeat the distinguished former Secretary of the Treasury."

HOPE OF PROGRESSIVES.

The resolution endorsing the candidacy of Mr. McAdoo declared that he "in the hope of the Progressives throughout the nation," and concluded with "we unanimously demand his leadership."

In his speech of acceptance of the verdict of his supporters Mr. McAdoo virtually outlined his platform.

"You ask me to take the more arduous role of leadership," he said. "I accept the command.

"Let us from this time forth fight until the stars fall for honest government, for public peace, for economic and social justice and for the undying principles of democracy."

ARREST PRINCE

tors drew one more story of royalty that slipped.

Prince Selmon Nicholas Korsakoff was born in Moscow, he said. He was a real prince, he asserted, and he showed passports and papers to prove it.

During the war, according to his own account, he was in command of the "Black Wing Squadron" of air defence, patrolling the Black Sea. Following the war and during the burning of Smyrna, he was captain of the allied police.

He was married at that time, he said, to Princess Gialitzon, whom he believes to be dead. She was a heroine in Petrograd during the Kerensky reign in Russia.

Several months ago he arrived in New York as a Russian refugee. He had several hundred dollars and with him and entertained himself for a time in New York. Then he secured a job in a West Virginia coal mine. That was slipping too far down, however, even for royalty, and he resigned and came to Boston.

The sum total of his funds when he registered at the Copley Plaza, he placed at $200. While he was stopping there he made the acquaintance of a youth who later proved helpful to the extent of desertion when the Prince's funds ran out.

TEACHERS ASK LATER OPENING OF SCHOOLS

Boston teachers would rather work an extra week in June and have the schools open a week later in September.

At any rate, a communication from the Boston Teachers' Club, which was read at the meeting of the school committee, declared that 1171 teachers from 51 school districts have so voted, and asked that the board take some action on the matter. This will probably be done at some future session.

SCORES ARE RESCUED IN FIRE

Two Portland Children Caught in a Human Net; One Is Burned, Three Hurt

Portland, Me., Feb. 19.—One woman was seriously burned, two women and a man were injured in leaping from windows, and scores were rescued when fire of undetermined origin destroyed the Ellsworth Apartments at No. 885 Congress street.

About 100 occupants of the building were asleep in their apartments when the fire was discovered. Most of them fled, attired only in nightclothes.

The two children of Mrs. Mabel McLaughlin, one of the women injured in leaping, were thrown by J. V. Mulkern, another tenant, from a third story window, into the arms of spectators. Mrs. McLaughlin was cut about the head.

Carl Johnson slid down an improvised rope from a third story window.

Firemen carried about fifteen persons down ladders from the second and third floors after they had been trapped by the flames and were about to leap to the ground.

RUM DEATHS CUT BY BUTLER'S CAMPAIGN

Philadelphia, Feb. 19.—Deaths from alcoholism in Philadelphia decreased more than 85 per cent. in 1923 as compared with 1924, in comparison with a similar period last year, Frank Paul, chief investigator of the coroner's office, said today.

Paul attributed the reduction to Director of Public Safety Butler's campaign against lawbreakers. Reports showed 150 deaths due to alcohol during the first six weeks of 1923, Paul said. This year but twenty-seven have been reported and eleven of these were due to accidents resulting from intoxication.

Mr. Wells, his wife, three sons and two daughters were driven from the house by the flames. The fire started at the same time as those at the Warwick High School a week ago and at the Cranston Community Church Saturday morning. Both fires are believed to have been of incendiary origin.

SON DIES AS MOTHER ELOPES

New Hampshire Woman and Neighbor Believed to Be in Lynn

Mrs. Grace Parent left her nine years old boy on a sick bed in Mount Vernon, N. H., to go to Lynn with a neighbor, Alfred Durocher, father of three children.

While the Lynn police were searching for the couple the sad news came over the telephone from New Hampshire that the boy had died.

WARRANT FOR MAN.

Mrs. Parent, who is thirty years old, is the wife of Ralph Parent, of Mount Vernon. Durocher, who is thirty-five years old, left a wife and three children in the New Hampshire town.

Lynn police were asked to look for them by the Mount Vernon police, who acted on complaint of Mr. Parent and Mrs. Durocher. The New Hampshire authorities said they had a warrant charging Durocher with white slavery.

VISITED LYNN PRIEST.

Inspector John Donahue of the Lynn police department discovered that the couple had been in Lynn. They visited Rev. Fr. John H. Sheridan, director of the Lynn Catholic Charity Circle.

Durocher said they sought aid in securing the release of Mrs. Parent's sister from an institution in Boston. The sister is nineteen years old.

The couple left the Charity Circle, saying that they were going to the home of relatives on Tremont street, Lynn. Efforts by the police to find them failed.

Meanwhile, from New Hampshire came the news from the Mount Vernon police that Mrs. Parent's son had passed away.

Injunction papers were served on Fred Monosson, as vice-president of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union; Israel Lewin, manager of the joint board, and other union leaders, returnable before the justices of the Supreme Court Thursday morning.

CALLS MAYOR CURLEY ON WATER REVENUES

A strict accounting of revenue derived from the water service is demanded of Mayor Curley in a resolution unanimously passed by the City Council at the request of Councillor James T. Purcell.

This was the first of a series of attacks on the Curley administration by Purcell, who says he hopes to reduce the water rents to householders and commercial and industrial consumers. This would in turn result in lower rents, Councillor Purcell adds.

The accounting involves $7,600,000, according to City Auditor Carven.

HEIRESS WORKS TO STUDY LIFE AT ITS BEST

Daphne Field Grabs a Quick Breakfast and Rushes to the Time Clock

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Cocktail shakers, cigarette holders, afternoon lounge lizards—they don't mean a thing in the life of Miss Daphne Field, heiress daughter of Stanley Field, Chicago millionaire.

Early today the young Chicago "deb" slipped into a plain dark suit, and after snatching a hasty breakfast prepared by a small army of servants in the Field household bustled downtown and punched the clock in the big store of Marshall Field & Co.

This is Miss Field's idea of doing something worth while. Incidentally, her chum, Miss Ruth Keeley, daughter of James Keeley, former publisher and now an official of the Pullman company, punched the employes' clock in the same store at the same time.

Miss Field was assigned to duty in the gown department—the debutantes' section—while Miss Keeley took her place in the department where silk things are sold.

Both young ladies refused to talk to reporters, but from their intimate friends was gleaned the fact that both are convinced that the idle life of the modern society flapper doesn't mean anything, and that to get the true slant on life one must do real, honest-to-goodness work.

PLAN MORTGAGE ON GERMAN RAIL LINES

Allied War Debt Board Adopts New Scheme to Collect Reparations

Paris, Feb. 19 (A.P.).—The expert committeemen examining into Germany's resources have reached a general agreement on their report to the reparation commission, according to information from authoritative quarters today.

They have decided, it is stated, that instead of the formidable loan to be placed on the international market previously suggested, a mortgage of approximately 10,000,000,000 gold marks on the German railway system and other sources of revenue of the German government shall form the basis of a plan by which the allied countries, especially France, will derive regular payments of interest.

The mortgage bonds to be issued would be a first lien on the railways and be divided among Germany's creditors on the basis of the percentage adopted at the Spa conference in 1920: France, 52 per cent; Great Britain, 26; Italy, 10; Belgium, 5, with the remaining 4 per cent. divided among the other allies.

A relatively small international loan will also be recommended to help Germany set up the proposed national gold issue bank. It is in this loan that American financiers will be asked to invest. Its amount remains to be fixed, but it will probably not exceed $500,000,000. If the plan is accepted by the allied governments a part of this loan will be offered in the American market.

Former Margaret Bennett Guest of Her Sister, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.

MRS. TOM COTTMAN came up from Baltimore for a brief visit with her sister, Mrs. Edward Cunningham, Jr., at the latter's Providence home.

Since the oldest daughter of Stephen Howe Bennett of Boston has been living in the Oriole City —where, by the way, she is leader of the gay younger married set—Boston sees very little of the one-time Margaret Bennett, one of the liveliest girls ever invited to Sewing Circle membership.

Mrs. Edward Cunningham

Mrs. Cunningham too—she was Elizabeth Bennett—has her large following and at one time held the leadership of the Debutante Club. Last Winter, I believe, the Cunninghams spent out Dedham way.

On Saturday Mrs. Cunningham gave a dinner for sister Margaret at the Providence residence on Argilla road.

THE third of the trio of Bennett sisters is Mrs. Bulkeley Wells of Gotham. As Helen Bennett, she was one of the dashingest "leading men" ever to take part in a Vincent Club show. Besides which she possesses considerable skill and grace as an interpreter of terpsichore.

It was only last June that she became Mrs. Bulkeley Wells, the wedding, from Mrs. Cottman's home, drawing quite a Boston contingent to Green Spring Valley. Upon their return from an extensive honeymoon abroad, Mr. and Mrs. Wells made their domicile in New York.

Mrs. Wells was among the smart group having parties at the last of the series of Three Jinks supper dances to hold the other evening at Pierre's.

INTERESTING Theresa and Lee Higginson have sailed on a Mediterranean cruise on board the Tuscania.

Last Winter the girls had an apartment in Boston, where they studied art and music. They have a host of Boston connections, and considerable entertaining was done for them during their stay here. Both sisters, who are rather dashing brunettes, have a decided penchant for gorgeous shawls, which they wore to all the dances. They are cousins of Mrs. George H. Lyman, Jr., (Eleanor Higginson) and Mrs. Bernard F. Rogers, Jr., (Nina Higginson).

Shortly before sailing for foreign shore, Theresa and Lee Higginson enjoyed the Winter sports at "Rocklawn," as their place at Lenox is called. Their mother, Mrs. George Higginson, came on from the Winter home in Chicago to be with them.

Among the ports which the girls will visit on their trip are Madeira, Gibraltar, Algiers, Monaco, Athens, Naples and Alexandria.

HARVARD GETS $1,000,000 BY DEATH

Tea Merchant's Milton Estate Acquired on Passing of Widow

Pittsfield, Feb. 19.—With the death in New York of Mrs. Anna Miller Milton of No. 405 Park avenue, Harvard University is to receive between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 under the terms of the will of her husband, the late William F. Milton, retired tea merchant of Boston, New York and Pittsfield, who was graduated from Harvard in 1858.

With the exception of one or two personal bequests and the establishment of trust funds for the late Mr. Milton's two nieces, Amelia and Edith M. Kohlsaat of New York, the bulk of the estate goes to the university on condition that none of the income derived shall be used for general expenses.

The will directs that the money be used for the erection of a new college library, and in the event that the college has one that it be used for conducting research work along medical, geographical, historical and scientific lines. The exact nature of the research work is to be left to the judgment of the trustees of the university.

MISS M'SWINEY IN PEACE PLEA TO M'DONALD

Calls on British Premier to Make New Pact With People in Ireland

Dublin, Feb. 19.—Mary MacSwiney, leading Irish woman Republican, has written to Prime Minister MacDonald, saying that the Republicans have watched with sympathy the rise of the Laborites to power, but doubt whether they will stick to their ideals "any more than President Wilson did."

The first test of Labor's victory, she says, will be in Ireland, where the Republicans refuse to recognize allegiance to the King or the partition of the country.

She raises the question whether Mr. MacDonald, like his predecessors, will "force His Majesty's ministers in the Free State into a war of aggression against the Republican citizens."

Miss MacSwiney urges the Premier to make an Irish peace on the basis of Ireland's sovereignty and integrity.

2 BANDITS AND 4 POLICEMEN SHOT IN DUEL

Gunmen Felled by Rain of Bullets After Starting Battle in Patrol Wagon

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 19.—Six men, two of them suspected automobile bandits and alleged escaped convicts, and four policemen, nursed bullet wounds today as a result of a desperate bid for freedom by the gunmen which included a running pistol fight through traffic - thronged streets in the heart of the downtown district here.

The pistol battle was initiated by Lee Wallace, twenty-three, Franklin, Ind., and Rex Stacey, alias Harry Miller, twenty-three, St. Louis, Mo., when they suddenly drew weapons, wounded four policemen, who were guarding them, escaped from an automobile patrol as the machine approached police headquarters and darted away.

Police and detectives joined in pursuit and hundreds of persons, pedestrians, occupants of street cars and automobiles and workers in office buildings, attracted by the sound of firing, witnessed the spectacular chase.

Chief of the gunmen was cut short by bullets from the service pistol of Detective W. J. Diehl, who was participating in a liquor raid which he heard shots and saw the two men running in his direction.

Neither Wallace nor any one of the policemen was wounded seriously. Hospital reports, however, were that Stacey's condition was critical. His most dangerous wound was caused by a bullet that pierced his back and lodged in his stomach.

SEIZE BIG STILL IN LAWRENCE LIQUOR RAID

Thousands of Quarts of Booze and Fully-Equipped Plant Are Found in Barn

Lawrence, Feb. 19.—A liquor plant which could turn out practically any kind of liquor was found today, when police raided a barn, at No. 7 Carlton street.

In the raid, the biggest made in this city to date, thousands of quarts of liquor and machinery for bottling and labeling liquor were seized.

Included in the liquors seized were brands bearing the names of Hennessy's brandy and White Horse whiskey. Labels of many other high class whiskeys were found by the thousands, besides chemicals and flavoring to give the liquors the right taste and color.

The barn where the raid was made, is located in the rear of the old St. Matthew Hall, so much contraband was found that the basement and the upper part of the police station where it was taken after the raid, was soon filled.

The raid was made by the liquor squad, under the direction of Fred Norton. It was a climax to the cleaning campaign being waged by Harry W. Marshall, the new commissioner of Public Safety.

Police say the barn is owned by Mike Archetti, but ownership of the liquor and machinery has not been determined.

TWO CORCORAN INDICTMENTS QUASHED

Thrown Out for Technical Error; Grand Jury Called to Bring in New Ones

Because the word 'wa,bally' was left out, Judge Whiting in Middlesex Court today squashed two indictments against William J. Corcoran, Mrs. Theresa Düggan, Mrs. Lillian Hardy Reese, Theodore Bearse and J. Warren Kane.

At the same time, the grand jury was summoned to meet tomorrow morning when new indictments will be sought.

Arthur D. Hill — Harry E. Levenson

The two indictments charged Corcoran with threatening to accuse Kenneth Merrill of a crime with intent to extort money, while the others were charged with being accessories.

The indictments, as drawn by the Grand Jury, contain the words "maliciously threaten to accuse," where-as they should have read "maliciously verbally threaten to accuse."

Attorney Joseph P. Walsh, representing Corcoran, called the oversight to the attention of Judge Whiting in presenting his various mo-

Wm. J. Corcoran — Albert Horwitz

tions in connection with the charges against his client. The court at once ordered the indictments voided.

The indictments thrown out were the only ones on which the State and the defendants were ready to go to trial.

Summoning of the Grand Jury to draw up new indictments was taken as the quickest method of rectifying the error of the former Grand Jury.

Meantime, Attorney Walsh and the other counsel for the defendants are presenting motions bearing on other indictments against their clients in the Middlesex court.

THREE PRINCIPALS IN BLACKMAIL TRIAL

MUST FACE JUDGE AND JURY

Mrs. Lillian Reese, at left, and Mrs. Theresa Duggan with Kenneth Merrill, inset. Mrs. Reese and Merrill are indicted on a statutory charge and Mrs. Duggan faces trial as alleged accessory in a scheme charged to William J. Corcoran to extort money from Merrill. Merrill made a comical getaway from court on a laundry wagon when news photographers tried to snap his picture.

NEW GAS USED FOR RARE OPERATION

Austin E. Harmon of the Grent Northern Paper Company is recovering at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, after a marvelously delicate surgical operation on his kidneys which would have been regarded as a scientific impossibility a few years ago.

Ether was considered too dangerous to use because of Mr. Harmon's serious condition. Instead he was anesthetized with a new gas which brushes away pain and paralyzes the sensory nerves, without harmful effect on the heart, lungs and brain.

BUTLER'S EMPLOYES IN LEAP YEAR PARTY

The Leap Year Party of the Butler Employes' Mutual Benefit Association was held last evening at the Strand Ballroom and was followed by a dance. Guests included Albert P. Flint, president of the Butler Stores; Senator Abbot R. Rice, treasurer of the concern, and James R. Griffith of Brookline. James E. Shay, store superintendent, was toastmaster. The newly elected board, announced at the banquet, consists of Alfred Saunders, president; James E. Shay, Mrs. Annie Leary and the Misses Annie O'Reilly, Nellie Tyrell and Maude A'Hearne.

Former President, Pittsburgh Division, Amalgamated Street Railway Employees
--JACOB L. STUMP praises REM

One of the reasons why a cough often hangs on is that it is constantly being aggravated by drafts and exposure.

It's harder for street-car men to get rid of coughs than for most anyone else. There are frequent drafts on the platform and doors are being opened and shut every few seconds.

So this testimonial from Jacob L. Stump is particularly interesting—

"This cough I've just had hung on me for about three weeks 'til another street-car man—a friend of mine—told me how he'd got rid of his. REM had fixed him up and I must say it did the same for me.

"My cough was a deep one, way down in my bronchial tubes and chest, and I'd cough and cough, trying to get the phlegm up. I had a wheezing in my throat and had a hard time getting my breath. I felt all choked up and my cough was very bad.

"REM'S fixed me up fine, though. It's the best cough medicine I ever took. It got rid of the soreness in my throat and cut the phlegm like everything."

So many who have tried REM speak of the quick relief it brings.

This quick action is not just a matter of luck, for REM contains a special ingredient (too expensive for old-style, slower-acting cough syrups) that causes it to cling to your throat as it is swallowed. And there it spreads a soothing, healing film over the sore inflamed membranes.

REM is pleasant to take. And it contains no Opiates.

Ask your druggist for REM—in the blue package with the round orange label. If REM doesn't help you you can have your money back. Fair enough, isn't it?

ACTING MAYOR DONOGHUE IS PEEVED

Objects to "Back Row" Positions at City's Official Receptions to Visitors

City Councillor John A. Donoghue, who is acting Mayor of Boston while the Honorable James Michael suns himself at Palm Beach and gets into trim for what Democrats love to refer to as the "Fall" campaign, wants everybody to understand that he IS the acting Mayor and that he purposes to act accordingly.

Johnny's peeve began to come to a head at Symphony Hall on Sunday, when E. Mark Sullivan, the handsomest municipal officer in the United States, was named in print on the official program as the gentleman to introduce former Mayor Hart as chairman.

John A. Donoghue

Among those present, filling the four or five banks of stage chairs which are usual on such occasions, was the Acting Mayor of Boston.

CALLS FOR DONOVAN.

"You'd think I was a dummy, or a set rock or something," says Johnny.

But the worst was yet to come. Louis A. Coolidge arrived at the Mayor's office with the Chinese High Commissioners. They were received by Standish Wilcox, the Curley social secretary, whose urbanity, aplomb, dignity and eloquence are household words in Europe, Iroquois and Syrup.

Standish wirelessed for City Clerk Donovan to appear and give the Chinese visitors the Golden Key to the City of Boston and everybody was standing pretty for the photographers when who should walk in but the Hon. John A. Donoghue, Acting Mayor.

JOHNNY LETS LOOSE.

Johnny permitted the photographers to do their worst and remained silent until the city's guests had departed. Then he laid down the law. Summoning the entire Curley staff of first, second, third, fourth and nineteenth assistant and assistant secretaries, the Hon. John A. Donoghue let one and all understand that from now onward and henceforth he is to be consulted about all engagements made in the name of the Mayor's office.

"I'm the leading man," young Mr. Donoghue told them, in politer and much more elegant phrase, "and there is no other. I'm it, with the capital. See me, first! Don't forget the address!"

One, two or possibly three of the Curley entourage would give their friends to understand that the Donoghue bat is slathering, but they will obey orders. E. Mark Sullivan will take a rear seat. Standish will continue to be the leading juvenile of the company, or maybe the first walking gentleman, but hereafter will duck the center of the stage and the spotlight.

ASSESSOR BLOWS OWN HEAD OFF

New Bedford, Feb. 19.—John T. Sherratt, a former selectman, assessor and member of several governing boards of the town of Dartmouth, went to the home of his friend, Capt. Fred Smith at Russell's Mills, took a shotgun from its rack, went back of a henhouse and blew his head off.

ROME IS DRENCHED, BUT HAS NO WATER

Rome, Feb. 19.—Rome today was still suffering from too much water from the skies and none within the houses, the latter because of a break in the Tivoli aqueduct, caused by a landslide. Workmen are laboring day and night to repair the damage to the aqueduct, but the continuous and heavy downfall of rain renders the work difficult and dangerous.

"ETHYLIZED" GAS ON MARKET SOON

Boston motorists are soon to meet Ethyl.

No, Ethyl is not a musical comedy star. It is the trade name selected for a new fluid developed by chemists which is said to take the "knock" out of motors. "Ethylized" gasoline will sell at three cents a gallon over the regular product.

THREE WOMEN ON G. O. P. DELEGATION

There will be three women delegates-at-large from Massachusetts to the Republican national convention.

It is stated that the delegates-at-large will comprise Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, Mrs. Frank B. Hall of Worcester, and Mrs. William Lowell Putnam, Senator Lodge, Speaker Gillett, William M. Butler, and Governor Cox.

BOSTON MAN IS NEW YORK SUICIDE

New York, Feb. 19.—After taking a day off to help his landlady move into an upstairs apartment, Michael A. Lipp, twenty-three of Boston hanged himself in the bathroom of the old flat.

When Mrs. David Gollup, whom he was assisting, went downstairs for a tube of tooth paste, the bathroom door was locked. A patrolman found Lipp's body hanging from a pipe.

TWO PATROLMEN FIRED FROM FORCE

Two Boston patrolmen were dismissed by order of police Commissioner Wilson on charges of conduct unbecoming an officer.

Patrolman Rocco Giovannucci of the Mattapan Station took an automobile ride while on duty, it was alleged. The details of the charges against the other patrolman, Peter F. Sullivan of the West Roxbury Station, were not made public.

KAYO DELANEY MAKES BOSTON DEBUT WITH LOUGHRAN

REAL TEST FOR QUAKER CITY STAR

Jack Delaney, who comes to Boston for the first time with a brilliant record of knockouts clashes with Tommy Loughran, the undefeated Philadelphian, in the fistic feature of the week tonight at Mechanics Building.

Delaney knocks 'em stiff. Few of his opponents have escaped the sting of his punches, and for this reason Boston fans will be at the ringside to witness the fray.

Tommy Loughran

Loughran has shown his ability, and in three starts in Boston he took the measure of three of the greatest middleweights in this country there were several to say that the Norse wonder would come back again, but this feeling has died away of recent months. These predictions were born.

Harry Greb, who wears the middleweight crown; Ted Moore, one of the best British ring stars ever sent to these shores, and Johnny Wilson, former middleweight champion, are the three who have been vanquished by Loughran.

In addition Loughran twice has taken the measure of Mike McTigue, world's light heavyweight champion.

Can Loughran stand up before the punching of Delaney? That's the question that will be settled tonight.

Loughran will face the hardest puncher in the ring. A youth of twenty-three years with only three years of fighting behind him, Delaney has made a sensational showing and defeated all the first class men in his class.

A victory over Louis Bogash is one of his notable feats and there are few who have taken the measure of Bogash.

Tommy Milton

A little bout with Harry Greb looms large for Delaney if he should win over Loughran. For nearly a year, Delaney has been gunning for the champion and he is expected that these stars will mingle early in the opening round.

Two newcomers will fight it out in the semi-final. Tommy Milton of New York and Young Bones, Connecticut flyweight champion will meet and it is expected that they will provide plenty of thrills. Each is clickering for a title fight with Pancho Villa.

Al Sears of East Boston is on the card with Bob Lowery, Scotch champion. They will travel over the eight round route.

The opening bout will be between Billy Ennis, a hard hitting boy from Fall River and Billy Patterson of Philadelphia.

GARDINER HOLDS ICE TROTTING ON FRIDAY

Gardiner, Me., Feb. 19.—A meeting for the harness horses in connection with its annual winter carnival will be held here on Friday. The final racers which disclaimed at Manchester, Lawrence and Portland have entered and it is fair to predict that the record for the quarter-mile dash on the ice will be eclipsed.

The entries for the Free For All Pace include Robert M.—Gold Quartz, Wilvena C. Lady Allen are already entered and as the entries do not close until morning of the race, it is very likely that Carter June and Tony the Hero will start.

Robert M. has won his last two starts, whizzing several quarters in twenty-nine seconds flat, while Gold Quartz has raced in 29¾.

The sport will be on the river, where a fast course is assured. Two other classes, the 2:20 trot for a $200 purse, and a race for three horses with a like amount to be divided, are on the card.

All of the heats are at the quarter-mile distance and all the events best three in five.

The entries are:

Free For All Pace, Purse $500—Robert M., Hanson Thwaites, Everett; Gold Quartz, Harry Hayes, Rochester, N. H.; Wilvena C., Johnny Marston, Pittsfield, N. H.; Wilvena C., Jack Kearney, Portland; Carter June, George Theobald, Concord, N. H., and Tony the Hero, T. F. McConnell, Lawrence.

2:20 Trot, Purse $200—Northern Queen, Sol Direct, Edith S., Indiana Dillon, Mud Lake and Main Brace.

St. Joe Show Thursday

There seems to be greater interest in amateur boxing than ever before to judge by the long list of entries already received for the tournament to be staged by the St. Joseph T. A. B. at Commercial Hall, Bowdoin square, on Thursday night.

Five classes will be staged at 112, 118, 126, 138 and 147 pounds and all will be for novices.

Entries may be sent to W. H. Cuddy, 85 Cambridge street.

Tennis Needs Upset to Boost Interest

By VINCENT RICHARDS,
National Indoor Tennis Champion

Looking forward, for no very obvious reason, into the months that lie between the present and the end of 1924, it is hard to figure out how a season could open more tranquilly, so far as changes are concerned, than the 1924 lawn tennis season.

Helen Wills

Football usually finds a different team on top at the end of the year; golf always seems to have new champions with the finish of each event, baseball may well see the end of the New York dynasty with the close of this 1924 season; even the supremacy of the United States in the Olympic games seems threatened; but, so far as it is possible to figure things out in advance in tennis, there is no reason to expect that Tilden, Helen Wills or the United States will be toppled from the top.

First off, in order to presage the toppling of a champion in sport, it is necessary to find a rival with the ability or the promise of ripening ability of sufficient paunity and quality to warrant the belief that the champion cannot survive beyond the present stretch of months.

In lawn tennis for the coming season it is almost impossible to warrant the belief that any of the present titleholders will fall by the wayside during the tournaments this summer.

When Helen Wills finally rose in her might and knocked Mrs. Mallory from the throne of woman's tennis fact, more from the surprise of seeing Mrs. Mallory defeated than from any real feeling that she was experiencing an off day.

William T. Tilden, singles champion, and one of the greatest players in the history of the game, stands absolutely supreme. He is the champion of champions. He perhaps stands further ahead of the rest in his games than any other figure in any other sport.

"Little Bill" Johnston may have two or three good matches in him yet, but the lithe Johnston slide cannot be far off for the marvelous California player. He has had almost fifteen years of constant tournament tennis, and when one takes into consideration that he was never blessed by nature with a sturdy frame to withstand the rigors that one must undergo in the championship events, one gets some idea of the wizard that he really is.

Last, but not least, it is hard to concede the fact that America will be lost in the Olympic games, even if Tilden and Johnson do not make the trip. Surely this country has enough lesser lights to make the journey to the Continent and bring home the well-known bacon.

I cannot see where there will be any change in the American lawn tennis list. Yet it is the everlasting hope of an upset that draws the thousands out to the new concrete stadium at Forest Hills. Perhaps it would be better for the game if an upset occurred.

FINNEGAN WINS FROM JOHNNY DREW

Dick "Honey Boy" Finnegan of Dorchester was the consensus of Johnny Drew of Worcester in the feature bout of ten rounds at the Grand Opera House show, held under the direction of the Armory A. A.

Johnny Drew

Although Finnegan was awarded the verdict, he was given the battle of his life. From the very sound gong of the first gong the lad from Worcester battled. Finnegan seemed to take his usual fistic form.

Not until the ninth and tenth rounds did Finnegan get on victory road. Then the former navy battler showed his best at both infighting and long range.

What the fans thought would be the fight of the show was the tussle between Ted Coolidge, of Manchester, N. H., and Whitey Allen, of Hyde Park. Both tough hitters met in the ring with determination to knock the other out. Allen opened by dropping Coolidge with a right for a count of one.

The New Hampshire lad bounced quickly to his feet and out loose with all he had and sent Allen to the floor for a count of four.

The Hyde Park hitter got up and took another mess of left and right socks which had him reeling to all sides of the ring and against the ropes.

Referee Abe Goodman saw Allen's condition and stopped the bout and declared Coolidge the winner.

Charlie Donavon, of Dorchester, scored a quick victory over Larry Mails, of South Boston, sending a wicked punch to Mails's feed basket and the latter went down. He claimed a foul, but was counted out in the second frame.

Nick Madonna, of Lexington, defeated Bobby Recklaw of Milwaukee. The Lexington lad was declared the winner after eight rounds of battling.

Nate Hegal, of Revere, is matched to battle Lee King, of Berlin, N. H., next Monday night by the Armory A. A. to be staged at the Grand Opera House.

DEMPSEY SIGNS FOR GIBBONS

New York, Feb. 19.—Negotiations for the proposed return world's heavyweight battle in New York about June 1, between Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons, may be completed today at a conference between Tex Rickard and Jack Kearns, manager of the titleholder.

Tommy Gibbons

Several weeks ago Rickard announced he had arranged the match but Kearns had not signed articles, although it is understood he and the promoter are in agreement on terms.

Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, arrived here on behalf of Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul boxer, who stayed the limit with the champion at Shelby, Mont. on July 4.

Rickard will build an arena somewhere in the Metropolitan district, which will be available for the Dempsey-Gibbons encounter as well as the prospective return match between Dempsey and Luis Angel Firpo. He is not inclined to use either the Polo Grounds or Yankee Stadium because of seating difficulties on these fields.

NEWPORT'S SUMMER RESIDENTS IRATE

Newport, R. I., Feb. 19.—While telegraph wires into Newport fairly aflame with protests from Summer residents against the Dempsey-Wills fight in Newport July 4, Mayor Sullivan feels inclined to think that it cannot take place.

However, one Summer resident, Norman Whitehouse of New York, telegraphed that he saw no objection to the fight if the town people wanted it.

He doubted if Summer residents had any right to protest. It was to bring some desirable persons to Newport who would stay, he said.

Protests were received from Edward J. Berwind, Mrs. Frederick Pearsons, Pennington Pearson, Mrs. Daniel B. Fearing, Richard Gammbrill, Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver G. Jennings, Mrs. George L. Rives, Mrs. Henry Howe and Mrs. David King of New York and Dr. Richard V. Mattison of Philadelphia.

Yankee Boss Gives Free Use of Stadium

New York, Feb. 19.—The use of the Yankee Stadium for the Eastern Olympic preliminary trials, scheduled for June 7, has been extended free of charge by Colonel Jacob Ruppert, president of the world's baseball champions.

Proceeds of the Eastern trials, as well as the seven other sectional tryouts planned to give athletes throughout the country an opportunity to make the 1924 international team, will go toward the $330,000 fund needed for the invasion of Paris.

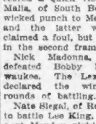
No prizes will be awarded to winners of the tryouts, but athletes who gain the first three places in each event will be given certificates.

In donating the Yankee Stadium, Colonel Ruppert asked that the hammer, javelin and discus throws be conducted also where baseball's regular diamond playing surface.

As a result these events will be staged at McComb's Dam Park, which adjoins the stadium.

ZBYSZKO MUST BE AT HIS BEST

Wrestling interest centers in the Stasiak-Zbyszko match at the Grand Opera House Thursday night. It's a hard match to dope out. Stasiak has not been defeated in more than two years. Zbyszko is one of the world's greatest wrestlers. He has beaten every living wrestler whom he ever met at some time or other in his career.



Jack Albright

Intense interest is shown among the Poles of Boston and vicinity. Many of them are from the same section of the country as Zbyszko. They want to see "Zibby" win. They can see nothing but a victory for him.

Other Polish people come from Stasiak's home town. They are with him almost to a man. This is especially so of the Polish settlements in Chelsea and South Boston.

Zbyszko is in wonderful form. Never in the past four years has he been as good as at present. He realizes that Stasiak is tough and is coming. He must be at his best to stop him. He is taking no chances in not being right for this contest.

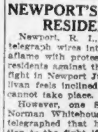
Stasiak is also training in deadly earnest. His one ambition is to conquer Zbyszkos. He wants to beat Wladek and then Stanislaus.

He realizes should he conquer the famous brothers he would be the undisputed champion Polish wrestler of the world and the idol of his people.

In the opening bout Jack Albright, the man with 1,000 holds, will meet Nick Bosinis, the rising young Greek star.

MEDFORD DEFEATS TUFTS FRESHMEN

The Medford hockey club triumphed over the Tufts freshman sextet, 4 to 3, after three overtime periods at the Tufts Oval rink.



Jimmy LeCain

Coach LeCain's Brown and Blue Cubs held their own against the clubmen for three regulation periods, but were outplayed in the overtime.

Edgar Michalson excelled for Medford in the first and second periods. Michalson tallied twice in those stanzas and gave Tufts a lead.

In the third period the excellent work of Shuman enabled the Tufts Cubs to tie the score.

EXETER WILL PLAY PRINCETON CUBS

Exeter, N. H., Feb. 19.—Exeter's football eleven will take a trip to Princeton up the show with Bob Reclaw of the North End. The Lex-Princeton next season to play the Tiger freshmen. The date is fixed for October 25. No Exeter team has played there since the Fall of 1917, when a poor showing was made.

Exeter and the New Jersey institution renewed relations last season when the Tiger Cubs came here and won by a large score.

The other trip will be to New Haven to play the Yale freshmen, October 11.

ZANOVICH FELL AND LOST TO MONDT

"Toots" Mondt defeated Paul Zanovich in the main bout of the Tuohey wrestling carnival at Mechanics Building. A big crowd attended the show and learned with great satisfaction that the veteran promoter had matched Mondt and John Pesak for the bout to be held at Mechanics Building also.

Toots Mondt

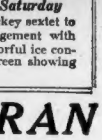
Mondt won in twenty-two minutes and twenty-two seconds. Zanovich fell and dislocated his shoulder and was unable to continue. The fall and match were given to Mondt.

Pesak defeated Elmer Saunders in the semi-final in forty-six minutes and sixteen seconds with a double wrist lock. Pesak displayed great ability and astounded those present with his skill.

In the preliminary Tommy Record won from Tom Bouges in twenty-two minutes and fifty-three seconds with a toe hold.

Mondt-Pesak match next Monday night will be on the winner-take-all basis. Each man has posted a forfeit of $1,000, which will go as a side bet.

Basketball Notes



Tom Riley

The Mt. Pleasant C. A. five of Roxbury invades Chelsea tonight for a game with the Chelsea K. of C. at the Williams School Hall. This will be a greater Boston league struggle and the home fans will get their first look at Tommy Riley, fast and brilliant forward on the Mt. Pleasant quintet.

The Chelsea team is tied for first place in the league standing and should stay right up front with Bunker Hill as their greatest opponent.

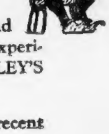
Gum Chewing Aids the Teeth



You have the authority of doctors and dentists for this statement. Your own experience will prove it, if you will use WRIGLEY'S after every meal.

The following quotations from a recent work on teeth and health are worth remembering:

"Dentists have found that the exercise of gum chewing brings about a better nutrition of the teeth. . . ."

"The cleansing action of the gum between the teeth helps to keep them free from the particles which lodge in the crevices and cause decay."

The busy man—or woman either—rarely has time to clean the teeth after eating. Yet they should be cleaned, and

RED SOX MAKE THEIR GETAWAY FOR SAN ANTONIO CAMP

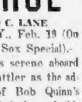
SECRETARY PRICE IN CHARGE

By FRED C. LANE.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 19 (On board the Red Sox Special).—Everything was serene aboard the Red Sox rattler as the advance party of Bob Quinn's ball tossers sailed through this namiet.

On arrival at Cleveland Manager Lee Fohl, Cy Rosenthal, pitcher and Charlie Dorukott will pile aboard.

Dornkott and Rosenthal are pickups who showed promise in the minor league last year. They are only two of the recruits who will be given a tryout by manager Fohl in his efforts to build up a strong pitching staff.



Lee Fohl

The other battery candidates will await the arrival of the special train at St. Louis where the bulk of the party will entrain for the big jump to San Antonio.

Rosenthal heads for San Antonio in doubt about what uniform he will wear. He was under option by the Red Sox and farmed out to the San Antonio club of the Texas League last season.

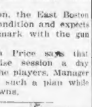
As yet he has not affixed his signature to a contract as he is a holdout for more money from the Texas Club.

Curtis Fullerton, the East Boston boy, is in fine condition and expects to get off the mark with the gun this year.

Secretary Jim Price says that only one practise session a day will be held by the players. Manager Fohl carried out such a plan while leading the Browns.

EAGLES BATTLE THE MAPLES

Boston College's hockey followers will have another chance to root for the Eagles to-morrow night at the Arena when they will play the Maples in a Winsor Cup game.



Jack Culhane

The Eagles have proved that they are the best third period team in American hockey. The collegians may be held even for two periods, but in the final session they cut loose.

The other game of the double-header will feature Harvard and Hamilton College. The fact that it is Hamilton's first visit does not necessarily mean that the Empire Staters lack ability. Their record to date shows seven victories in eight starts. The defeat was against the University of Montreal.

The Hamilton team has a home rink at Clinton, N. Y., of practically the same dimensions as the local surface.

THREE MORE RED SOX SIGN FOR THE YEAR

President Quinn of the Red Sox announces the receipt of three signed contracts. These bear the signatures of Alex Ferguson, right-handed pitcher, who has been with the club two years; J. H. Turner, a recruit pitcher, and Joseph Connelly, the outfielder obtained with Steve O'Neill and Wambsganss in the deal with the Cleveland club.

Quinn has less trouble in signing his players than he expected, although when the contracts were sent out his chief aim was to name salaries with which he believed everybody would be satisfied.

PITCHER STUART A CARDINAL HOLDOUT

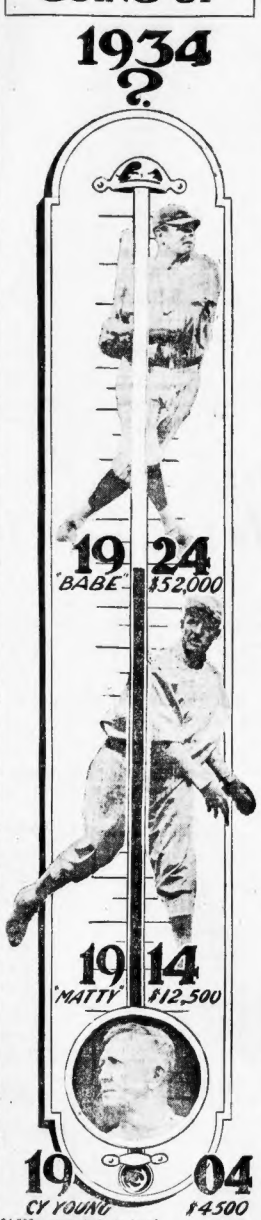
Huntington, W. Va., Feb. 19.—John Stuart, pitcher for the Cardinals, has not signed a contract for 1924 because of a disagreement over salary, the hurler declared at his home. Stuart said that he had been offered an increase in the new salary contract upon the basis of his pitching record last year, but that the figure was unsatisfactory.

MALONE GETS A BIG OFFER TO MEET TODD

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Jack Malone, St. Paul middleweight, has received an offer of $12,500 and expenses from a syndicate of London sportsmen to meet Roland Todd, British middleweight champion, in a 20-round contest to a decision in London in April.

Baseball a Gold Mine for the King of Swat

"GOING UP"



Great Changes Since Days of Matty and Great Cy

Young Babe Ruth, at thirty, has achieved not only a measure of fame at least equal to that of any other private individual, but also has attained a degree of financial compensation for his talents far in excess of any other ball player that ever lived. Ruth is assured of a berth with the New York Yankees this coming season and for two more seasons, at $52,000 a year. That's $1,000 a week—and if one is statistically minded, his income by the day, hour or minute might prove illuminating. It is said that in the year following Ruth's phenomenal achievement of 59 home-runs in one season he earned more than $150,000, in addition to his salary, on side issues, through the enterprise of those who made commercial capital of his name and fame. Christy Matthewson, in his own day greatest of the great ball players, is said never to have received more than $12,500 a year. Cy Young of the old Cleveland club, in the National League, was never paid more than $4,500 a year, it is declared. Ruth passed his thirtieth birthday this month. He seems to be a fairly successful young man at thirty!

MERRIMAC VALLEY LEAGUE PLANNED

Fitchburg, Feb. 19.—Plans are under way for a new baseball league, which will be called the Merrimac Valley League, to include Nashua, Manchester, Lowell, Ware, North Chelmsford, Lawrence, Salem and Fitchburg.

The promoters plan a ten-week league, and plan to use college players who have made good. A salary limit of $1,000 a year for each player and a player limit of twelve or thirteen has been suggested to the promoters.

BRITISH GOLFERS TO STAY UNTIL MAY 3

New York, Feb. 19.—When the British golfers, Arthur Havers and James Ockenden, left here the end of last year for their tour of the Pacific coast they stated that they were prepared to take their departure for England by the middle of April.

These arrangements have been changed, and as a result the British and French open titleholders will have two weeks added to their stay in America, which will enable them to participate in a few more matches. They will depart May 3.

HUNTINGTON TO HOLD GAMES SATURDAY

Schoolboy track men will not lack opportunities to bid for fame with many events on the calendar for the rest of the season.

The ninth annual interscholastic track meet under the auspices of Huntington School will be held on Saturday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Huntington avenue. With twenty-seven schools entered there will be lots of action and plenty of thrills.

Hank Moore

For the past three years, Medford High has romped away with the first honors. After Medford's victory in the State meet, Hank Moore's flyers are favored to make the coming meet their fourth straight.

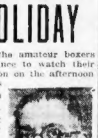
Medford will be given a hard run for honors by the strong game from Lowell, English High and Brookline. A new cup has been offered by Arthur L. Johnson of the Y. M. C. A. as Medford, by three successive victories took home the last cup. From their past showing, the Medford runners seem sure to capture the first leg of the new cup.

A week from Saturday, the annual B. A. A. schoolboy meet will be held. This will be the premier school event of the season, and the Huntington meet on Saturday will give a fair line on what can be expected from the schools.

PIONEER'S SHOW ON HOLIDAY

Followers of the amateur boxers will have a chance to watch their favorites in action on the afternoon of Washington's Birthday when the Pioneer A. A. of Lynn will put on its big show at Casino Hall.

An always-sought class, such always proves the most interesting at the "pure" shows, is on the bills and some of the future big leaguers are sure to show their ability, have already entered, one of whom is Johnny Johnson, who proved such a riot at the last show held by the club.



Louis Penney

In addition to the "huskies" the fastest boys in the 112, 118 and 135 pound classes will perform.

Louis Penney, 101 Church street, in charges of the entries, sends out the word that those boys have sent in their entries than for any previous show. Entries will close Wednesday.

DARTMOUTH TO RUN AGAINST HARVARD

Dartmouth versus Harvard in a two-mile relay is one of the many events which promise to make the Legion meet on the holiday one packed with thrills. "Snapie" Watters, Harvard's phenomenal miler, in all probability will wear the Crimson as a member of the relay team.

Joie Ray

Almost four hundred entries have been filed for the meet. They include many collegiate stars. There will be two invitation events, the Colonel William Gaston 600-yard run, and the Legion mile. Many runners will appear in these two events.

Joie Ray will not have things all his own way in the Legion mile. Three college milers, McCloskey of Boston College; Larrivee of Holy Cross, and Leo Ryan of Harvard, will give battle. L. E. Bond, of the B. A. A., another promising miler, will add to Ray's troubles.

GIANTS START FOR SOUTH TOMORROW

New York, Feb. 19.—The Giants start on another Spring training trip tomorrow, when all of the club's pitchers, several catchers and all of the young candidates for infield positions will begin a march on Sarasota, Fla.

If Manager Frank Chance is able to make the trip North with the White Sox in which Chicago is scheduled for twelve games with the Giants in various cities from Orlando, Fla., on March 31 to Chicago on April 12, the New Yorkers will be much disappointed, as a resumption of the old Chance-McGraw battles of ten years ago was counted on as a great drawing card.

Kansas and Bernstein

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 19.—Rocky Kansas and Jack Bernstein of Yonkers fought ten rounds to a draw.

HARVARD BEATS PRINCETON, 2 TO 1

A Tiger without wings cannot win a hockey game, and that is the principal reason why Harvard managed to nose out a win in the second overtime period of a none too gentle game at the Arena.

Ted Crosby

Weakness of the Tiger wingmen prevented Princeton from scoring many times throughout the game. Van Gerigg did heroic work, but was not good enough to defeat the entire Harvard team.

C. Davis, who started at left wing, scored the first goal for Princeton after ten minutes of exciting play in the first period. It was a neat shot and gave Princeton the upper hand.

Twenty seconds after the second period opened Austin scored a lucky goal for Harvard, the puck just dropping within the net after a poor stop by Colebrook.

Austin's goal did much to stimulate the spirit of both teams, both of which showed a tendency to be slightly disinterested. In fact, there was so much enthusiasm aroused that five more men on each side should have given the contest a closer resemblence to football.

At one point of the game, just before the close of the second period Derby man except the two Harvard defense and the goalie were piled up inside the Tiger cage after a lively scrimmage that nearly resulted in a second Crimson goal.

There was no scoring in the third period, nor in the first overtime period that followed.

In the second overtime period, Maurie Beale took Crosby's pass and shot the winning goal after 1 minute of play.

NATE SIEGAL KNOCKS OUT JOE PANGRAZE

Nate Siegal, the popular Revere welterweight, scored a fine second knockout victory over Joe Pangraze of Quincy at the Casino A. C., Lynn, before a packed house. Siegal boxed like a champion and carried too many guns for the Quincy klot.

The Revere boy made a real comeback and the crowd, which had turned out to see him display his wares are satisfied that he is no false alarm. He showed all and they look for him to climb the ladder very rapidly.

In the semi-final Frank Merna of Boston won the decision over George Siegal, a cousin of Nate's, of Revere, in their eight round bout.

George Cochuss of Peabody won the decision over Johnny Marto of East Boston in a six-round bout and Tommy Lee of Salem knocked out Teddy Conners in the third and final round of a scheduled six-round bout. Engineers Regiment Armory, March 1.

Country's Best Dogs in Big Show Here

The finest dogs in the country, representing 52 breeds, will start arriving in Boston tomorrow morning in preparation for the twelfth annual Eastern Dog Club show in Mechanics Building the last three days of the week.

With them will come many notables in social, theatrical and professional life.

Prominent lawyers, doctors, financiers, sporting men, moving picture producers, one or two moving picture stars and one star ball player, none other than Babe Ruth, are among the exhibitors of prize canines listed in the catalogue for the coming show.

P. A. B. Widener

In the great majority of cases, they will accompany their dogs here, and many of them, including Mrs. Geraldine Rockefeller Dodge, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, will show the dogs personally in the ring when they come under the observation of the judges.

Mrs. Dodge, who had several of the star shepherd dogs in the New York show last week and handled three in the ring herself, is a skilled expert. She acted as a judge at the big Newark Kennel Club show in Newark, N. J., last Thursday.

MOVIE PICTURE MAGNATES WILL BE HERE WITH DOGS.

Irving Ackerman of Los Angeles and Al Christie of Hollywood, moving picture magnates, will be here with their dogs. Ackerman specializes in fox terriers and has produced some of the greatest of the breed in the past few years. Christie is a bull terrier man and his White Heather was one of the winners at Mechanics Building last year.

Representing the moving picture actors will be E. K. Lincoln, who shows Chow Chows bred in his Greenacre Kennels in Connecticut. Mrs. James C. Brady, wife of the theatrical producer, also will be an exhibitor with prize shepherd dogs.

FAMOUS POLO PLAYER WILL BE A JUDGE.

One of the judges will be George H. Earle, 3d, of Philadelphia, famous polo player and all-around sportsman, whose specialty is the Dobermann Pinscher breed. He will judge those dogs in the local show.

Another polo player and horseman of some note who will judge will be Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., of Boston and Hamilton.

P. A. B. Widener of Philadelphia, son of the millionaire art connoisseur who uses his prize police dogs to guard his art treasures, will be another exhibitor.

BROTHER OF PHILADELPHIA MAYOR WILL BE ON HAND

Still another well known fancier to come from Philadelphia will be W. L. Kendrick, brother of Mayor W. E. Kendrick, under whose administration the wholesale clean-up of the city was inaugurated on Jan. 1.

James F. Strahan of Montreal, secretary of the Canadian Kennel Club and one of the best known sportsmen in Canada, will show his string of fox terriers and another group of that popular breed will be chaperoned all the way from Jacksonville, Fla., by Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cooper.

Army and Navy Will Race

New York, Feb. 19.—A match relay race at one mile between West Point and Annapolis will be one of the features at the revival of the Military Athletic League indoor track and field championships in the 102d Engineers Regiment Armory, March 1.

'BIG THREE' HAS CHANGES FOR DUAL MEETS

All arrangements for the "Big Three" dual track meets have been completed. Manager A. C. Bickford and Captain J. E. Merrill, Harvard representatives, attended a conference at the Yale Club in New York.

The meeting was necessitated by the recent agreement of the members of the "Big Three" to hold the freshman events in conjunction with the varsity meets.

Soapie Waters

As a result of the new schedule of events, it is believed that the freshmen field events will be finished before the varsity field events and varsity and freshman track events get under way.

Then the varsity and freshmen track events will be held together. It is believed that the new system will bring the meet to a close before 6 o'clock.

These arrangements will hold for the Harvard-Princeton meet May 16, the Harvard-Princeton meet May 17, and the Harvard-Yale games May 24.

Another change was the agreement to use intercollegiate rules instead of the A. A. U. rules in the field events.

Each contestant in the weight events and in the running broad jump will have three sets of trials each instead of three single trials, and that the four finalists will have three single jumps each.

Attempts to reach a final decision on the medley relay race failed when Harvard men refused to give a definite answer to the suggestion. Yale and Princeton are firmly against the race, but Harvard persisted in a neutral stand.

Seeback Beats Perkins

Charles Seeback, with 20 points in 25 innings, led Edward Perkins, who scored 28, in the New England three-cushion billiard championship at Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, Providence, R. I., last night.

TAKES SALTS IF STOMACH ISN'T ACTING RIGHT

Says Jad Salts Relieves Excess of Hydrochloric Acid

Undigested food delayed in the stomach decays, or rather ferments, the same as food left in the open air, says a noted authority. He also tells us that indigestion is caused by Hyperacidity, meaning there is an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten sours in the stomach, forming acrid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach. Then we can feel a heavy, lumpy misery in the chest; we belch up gas; we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and drink it while it is effervescing, and, furthermore, to continue this for a week. While relief often follows the first dose, it is important to help neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used for many stomach disorders with excellent results.

HEARST DRIVES TO AID VETS EXTOLLED

N. Y. Chapter Commander Points to Lessons of Two Great Exposes

Washington, Feb. 19 (Universal)—William Randolph Hearst has performed two great services for the war's disabled—first, in exposing, through his papers, the horrors of the past administration of the Veterans' Bureau, and secondly, in conducting the present expose of conditions as they are today in the New York office of the bureau."

That was the statement by Frank Haley, commander of New York chapter No. 2 of the disabled American veterans, on arrival here.

Commander Haley, who was the first man from New York to be wounded in France in 1917, presented to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson a bound and engrossed set of resolutions of sympathy, and conferred with General Frank T. Hines, director of the Veterans' Bureau.

TO HONOR WILSON.

Today he will place wreaths upon the tombs of former President Wilson and the Unknown Soldier at Arlington.

"I told General Hines it is imperative that some drastic action be taken without delay to improve the condition of the wounded men in District No. 2, which covers New York, New Jersey and Connecticut," said the leader of the disabled.

"During the open hearings National Commander J. A. McFarland warned the Senate Committee that it was not getting the truth concerning the disabled man and his problems throughout the country.

"I told General Hines that the report that General O'Ryan presented is not only incomplete but absolutely misleading so far as the disabled are concerned.

NEW YORK METHODS.

"We waited patiently for ten months but were rewarded by a report which contained plenty of sensations in regard to alleged graft. But if all the grafters are sent to prison what would the wounded man get?

"We were told at the open hearings that only one out of every 100 rehabilitated men is suitably employed, still there are today hundreds of men walking the streets of New York jobless, even though the Veterans' Bureau rates them as 'rehabilitated.'

"Last Summer men who were supposed to be rehabilitated for such positions as dental mechanics and accountants were offered jobs doing chores at the Jamaica race track while with the first flurry of snow this Winter the bureau tried to place men honorably wounded on the battlefields of France shoveling snow off the sidewalks of New York in spite of their wounds and their supposed rehabilitation.

SPLIT WIDE OPEN.

"With this situation existing in the biggest city in the country Congress is asked to believe from the O'Ryan report that in rehabilitation in New York the 'work is well performed by well-selected, interested personnel despite low salaries.'

"The New York office is split wide open and if Congress does not believe it let the Senate Committee go to New York and listen to the men we can produce.

"Since the armistice there have been several different investigations of the treatment of the disabled veterans and unless the present committee junks much of the testimony that has been presented to it, it seems to me but a mighty short time before the public clamor will lead to the eighth probe."

BETTY COMPSON TO WED ROMANTICALLY

BETTY COMPSON

Los Angeles, Feb. 19—Betty Compson, film star, and James Cruze, director of "The Covered Wagon," are to be married in the little deserted mining town of Frisco, Utah, the birthplace of Miss Compson, friends of the couple stated today. When Cruze led his caravan into Utah for the filming of the famous Western picture, they passed through the ghost-like town and stopped to inspect it. The wedding will take place in the Fall, it is believed.

CURE FOR SEPTIC POISON

Mercurochrome, New Antiseptic, Successfully Used in Baltimore

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 19.—Septic poisoning, considered one of the most dangerous enemies to life, is being successfully combated by mercurochrome, an antiseptic developed by Baltimore physicians through experiments at Brady Institute, Johns Hopkins Hospital.

These experiments have covered a period of five years, and been successful in many instances during the last year.

The new treatment has just become known to the public through the remarkable recovery of Dr Carl V. Vischer of Philadelphia.

LIFE DESPAIRED OF.

Dr. Vischer, a surgeon at Hahnemann Hospital, pricked his finger with a needle during an operation last August and contracted septic poisoning. For months his life was despaired of.

As a last resort, the two surgeons attending him used mercurochrome. Now, entirely recovered, he is at his home in Germantown, with only scars to mark his six months battle for life.

BRINGS RECOVERY.

For the development of mercurochrome and its use in fighting blood poisoning, medical science is indebted to Dr. Hugh J. Young, director of the Brady Institute. Dr. Young's report, published in the Journal of the American Medical Association, February 15, 1919, reads as follows:

"I have been informed that you have applied to the Volstead Act. If I have been misinformed and you have not applied to the Volstead Act, all of the following is void, but if you have applied to the Volstead Act, I shall be pleased to do all in my power to assist you in your application. If you feel inclined I would appreciate it very much if you would send me a letter from you stating that you have applied to the Volstead Act, and I will then write you a letter to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, stating that I have no objection to your application."

Mercurochrome was first used in many cases of blood poisoning due to staphylococcus bacteria, which caused Dr. Vischer's illness, and to other bacteria. Dr. Young said: "In many of these cases in which the patients have been desperately ill, beyond hope of cure, Mercurochrome has brought about their recovery."

BIRDS NOW AGREE ON BUTLER

Walpole Manufacturer Comes Out for Regular G. O. P. Senate Candidate

The political rift in the family of Charles Sumner Bird of Walpole has been healed.

Mr. Bird was opposed to William M. Butler for the U. S. Senate.

Mrs. Bird was for William M. Butler.

Mr. Bird announced today that he is now supporting Mr. Butler's candidacy, thereby reaching a "compromise" with Mrs. Bird.

Mrs. Charles S. Bird

Charles S. Bird

By the way of explaining his switch into the Butler camp, Mr. Bird makes public an exchange of telegrams between himself and Mr. Butler. This, of course, eliminates the possibility that Mrs. Bird might have won a victory over her husband.

Mr. Bird's announcement follows.

"As I have been criticised by a part of the press for my alleged audacity in entering the Senatorial situation, I may be well to publish the following telegrams to Hon. Butler, February 15. I wired William M. Butler as follows:

"'I have been informed that you have applied to the Volstead Act. If I have been misinformed and if you have not applied to the Volstead Act, all of the following is void, but if you have applied to the Volstead Act, I shall be pleased to do all in my power to assist you in your application. If you feel inclined I would appreciate it very much if you would send me a letter from you stating that you have applied to the Volstead Act, and I will then write you a letter to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, stating that I have no objection to your application.'

"Butler's answer:

"'Your friendly telegram received. I thank you. I favor the repeal of the Volstead Act and I would be glad to sign a petition for such repeal, if it were in circulation. I have always been fair and thorough in my dealings with the people and I have always been willing to back down when I was wrong. I was not involved in the eighteenth amendment. I frankly say that I was not in favor of the amendment when adopted but I am content that it has brought about a great improvement in drinking conditions in the country.'

"Mr. Butler's answer is [illegible] I thought I would support Mr. Butler and I hope that [illegible] at the polls on March 4.

AGED MAN IS BALKED IN QUEST OF 'SATISFACTION'

Alphonse, the Count D'Ornano, and a gentleman said by some who saw him to be Irving, the Dr. Dodge of Commonwealth Avenue Hospital, came within an inch and a half, or well, maybe two inches, of fighting a duel at the Hotel Copley-Plaza.

It was all on what used to be called the quiet hour that a middle-aged gentleman, leaning heavily on a stout cane, hobbled up to the desk of the fashionable hotel near the Public Library and demanded to know where "that Count" was.

The clerk knew whom the caller had in mind for, as luck happens, the Copley Plaza at the moment is almost out of counts.

"D'Ornano?" pleasantly inquired the young gentleman with the big diamond, "No, he is out, at the moment, and will not return for several hours."

COUNT DISTRESSED.

"Out, is he?" roared the middle-aged one. "Out, eh? Well, he's lucky! He's lucky, that young man! I had been given to understand that he wanted to fight a duel, that he wanted 'satisfaction,' that he might slap my face. I'll show him! PICKED FOR LOOKS

Your duke or your earl does his gumshoeing now from the first row of the chorus-loving circle. He picks them now for their looks instead of their gold.

All London is awaiting announcement of the betrothal of the Earl of Dudley to Gertie Millar, formerly adoring member of the London Gaiety Girls.

Gertie also, all life working in a mill—but Gertie soon found that the wonderful form with which she was blessed could bring her much wealth. It is bringing her wealth and now it is about to carry her into the peerage.

WAY CLEARED FOR EARL

The Earl would have married Gertie some time ago—only Gertie had one perfectly good husband—Lionel Monckton, a composer.

Monckton refused to seek a divorce, but he was taken ill, died, at last and the Earl led the stage so to speak for the Earl.

The romance of stage recalls the fact that the American stage has furnished any number of titled Englishmen wives.

In almost every case these actresses have been members of companies playing in London and the romance followed.

Most times to a show, picks out the girl he likes and starts wooing her.

JESSICA WON TITLE.

One of the most recent cases where an American actress married into the nobility was that of Jessica Brown Duffie dancer who became the bride of the Earl of Northesk.

The Earl is only a youngster, but he's a hard one for Jessica while she was dancing behind the footlights in London. He promptly showered her with jewels and finally married her. It happened after the engagements in New York put up the bars because Duke had just won Jessica from her first husband, which is quite proof.

Then there was Camille Clifford, next you don't beauty of the Pittsburgh Dispatch company. She went to London with the Savage show and it was not long until she was the wife of Hon. Londonbury Byng, heir to Baron Ave ary. That ended a fine romance, the old Baron Albert Lee—but the ladies itself out of the mess gracefully, getting herself killed off, early in the war.

Ivy Lydia Donnelly, or as she was known on the stage, Frances Belmont, hopped right from her boarding house in New York to the top rung of English society by marrying Lord Anthony.

She made her first appearance as a chorus girl in "Miss Hook of Holland." Needless to say the whole cream of that city were very much took at. When she went to London with a company, all expected was only a short visit until Lord Anthony put an end to his persistent "scrub-woman." All this happened seven years ago, and the couple have been wonderfully happy ever since.

Ada Lewis came into New York from the Northwest. She had good time, a small part of a while on the stage. Arrived in England she was promptly courted and won by Baron Francis Henry Hugh Earl of Rosslyn, who was tired of his way of being an actor.

The Earl did not have much money and his wife from the stage [illegible] a wealth in her own right.

BRIDE OF MARQUIS.

Doctor Tells How NUXATED IRON PUTS BACK INTO YOUR BLOOD VITAL ELEMENTS OF STRENGTH

Which are Wasted Every Day and Without Which You Become Weak, Nervous, and Run-down.

EVERY action of your daily life uses up a certain amount of strength, energy and nerve force, using the iron from your blood and gradually steals away your youthful vigor and active usefulness. Unless you replace the iron which is constantly leaving the body, your blood stream loses the power to change food into living tissue, muscle and brain. It becomes thin, pale and weary and cannot provide proper resistance against disease.

If you feel weak, nervous and run-down it is simply because your food does not supply enough iron to make up for the daily waste of this vitally important health-building element. But physicians have found a way to quickly correct such conditions by prescribing a concentrated form of organic iron—Nuxated Iron — which contains iron like the natural iron in your blood.

Iron is the master principle one of the vital elements of the blood and blood is life. By enriching the blood and creating new red blood cells, Nuxated Iron strengthens the nerves, rebuilds the weakened tissues and helps to instil renewed energy and power in to the whole system.

When you get up feeling tired in the morning, when your nerves are jumpy, irritable and easily upset; when you can no longer do your day's work without being fagged out at night, pains across the back and your face looks pale and drawn do not wait until you go all to pieces and collapse in a state of nervous prostration or until your weakened condition you contract some serious disease. Simply try taking Nuxated Iron for two weeks and note the amazing change in your health, your energy and appearance. You should be astonished at the results in even a few days time. Sold by druggists or money refunded. At all druggists.

NUXATED IRON ENRICHES THE BLOOD—GIVES YOU NEW STRENGTH AND ENERGY

Tells Police All He Knows of Her Activities Since She Left Home in Texas

New York Feb 19—Norman Lawson here from his home in Alvarado Tex., worked with the police today in an effort to pierce the mystery surrounding the murder of his sister, Louise Lawson, music student, who was strangled in her fashionable apartment.

He was said to have told the police all he knew of the girl's activities since she left her Alvarado home at the age of eighteen, six years ago, to carry on her musical studies in New York.

Police said he appeared to know little of his sister's mode of life since she left home, holding the impression, with others of her relatives, that she had achieved considerable success in theatrical and motion picture circles.

Lawson also will settle his sister's estate, valued at $30,000.

Why INDICAN Indicates Danger for Most People

"When Indican Writes, It Uses a Poison Pen"

ASK your doctor about INDICAN. He will tell you it is a substance looked for in examining his patients thoroughly. If he finds it in you—it means that the poisons of constipation are seeping through your blood into every muscle and every joint. This is what does the damage. It robs you of your pep—it poisons your optimism and good spirits—it pales your face and puts blemishes there—it gives you headache—causes indigestion. No wonder you feel drugged when constipated.

You can get only temporary relief from most laxatives. But Carter's Little Liver Pills, it has been found, not only "physic" the stomach, liver and intestines quickly, but also drive the INDICAN away.

Make This Test: Have an analysis made of your specimen, and if the doctor reports the presence of INDICAN, or if you can "feel" how poisoned you are unmistakably start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills as prescribed by him, or according to directions. Now have another test made and see how the INDICAN disappears. See how your complexion brightens and clears, your tongue is sweet and clean, you can eat like a kid again, in most cases.

Important: Carter's Little Liver Pills, used for 67 years by millions of people all over the world, are a purely vegetable preparation and contain no drugs of any nature. They therefore act in a natural way and are non-habit forming. Money refunded if results are not satisfactory.

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

In the South, Feb 19.—The current of commerce keep constantly changing. They change at home; they change internationally.

New Orleans is destined to play a very important part in both national and international commerce during the second quarter of the Twentieth Century.

Two commercial currents, each comparable with the Gulf Stream, have set in. The development of river and canal transportation to serve the vast Mississippi Valley, the development of commerce between the United States and South America, Africa and the Orient.

New Orleans is the neck of the bottle through which the greatest volume of such trade will flow.

Trade, it has been said, follows the flag. Trade follows capital. It also has been said.

Trade, it can truly be said, follows facilities.

New Orleans is providing ideal facilities and getting them on a scale of astounding magnitude. Indeed, nothing has made a greater impression on me, as illustrating the rebirth of the South, than the renaissance now actively and energetically underway at New Orleans, its metropolis and leading port of the section.

What is embraced by the Mississippi Valley, the mammoth funnel which pours its riches into and through the port of New Orleans?

The Mississippi Valley is that region lying between the Appalachians, the Rockies, Canada and the Gulf. Within it, the records show, are produced 80 per cent of the Continent's wealth; 87 per cent. of all the corn; 87 per cent. of the iron ore; 82 per cent. of the agricultural implements; 95 per cent. of the coal; 61 per cent of the cotton; 53 per cent. of the lumber; 75 per cent. of the livestock; 70 per cent. of the sulphur; 66 per cent of the salt; 70 per cent of the oil.

No corporation nor manufacturer, no shipper, no importer or exporter need be afraid that goods or materials consigned via New Orleans will not be expeditiously, efficiently and economically handled, or that storage facilities may be inadequate. The world's greatest cotton warehouse is to be on the river front. So is the most modern grain elevator. A coal tipple, many miles of harvester-reel sheds unsurpassed for efficiency of equipment—in short, everything a modern Liverpool dockyards, is here.

And there is no more earnest, able, energetic body in the country than the docks commission, headed by R. S. S. Hecht of whom I recently spoke, and having other fine members, all successful business men who serve without pay, of showing the most upstream inland authorities to go ahead and do things.

The Port Board has provided for development plans, whichever finds appeals to customers, as to speak. Its "four phase" policy is described thus: Public ownership of river harbor front commercial sites and facilities, available to all users on equal terms—the system long in operation.

Public ownership of inner harbor sites and commercial facilities thereon, subject to short-term leases by business enterprise.

Public ownership of inner harbor sites, subject to long-term leases and business ownership and operation of commercial facilities thereon.

Private ownership of sites on ship laterals of the main canal, and private ownership and management use of industrial facilities thereon.

In 1914 imports and exports did not reach a value of $200,000,000. During the last five years they have averaged $400,000,000. Ten years hence the total will be—who can guess?

In 1913, New Orleans had not $100,000,000 of bank resources. It now has approximately $300,000,000.

New Orleans lies below water level at high tide, and has therefore to protect its existence by embankments, or levees. Every drop of rainfall, every lots of sewerage has to be pumped over these embankments into the river. In its fight against yellow fever, caused solely by mosquito, Panama, Havana, Memphis, the city destroyed 250,000 surface cisterns which formerly furnished the only water supply and built a modern system of filtered water. Mill one had to be spent in destroying every rat in the city and making the entire city and port rat-proof, as a precaution against the bubonic plague.

To a city that has triumphed over such difficulties and has equipped itself for inestimable expansion I should say: Go to it; you not feel like that off you hat?

U. S. STEEL IS UP AROUND POINT

New York stock market rallied and slowly crept upward after large initial offerings had been absorbed several lines. U. S. Steel was up around a point.

Selling orders were in the majority at the opening with some large blocks of the oil shares coming out.

Losses of ½ to 1 point were established by Sinclair and Pacific Oils, Continental Can, Republic Steel, U. S. Alcohol and Baldwin.

American Locomotive and Davison Chemical, however, were slightly higher.

Demand sterling started at $4.39⅝, up 9-16 cent; francs 4.17¾ cents, up .03 cent; marks 4,630,000,000,000 to the dollar. Canadian dollar was .37629.

Speculation became irregular in the secondary dealings, fresh buying and short selling competing for the mastery of the movement. In the main, however, the tendency was upward, most of the leading stocks, with the exception of the oils, rising smartly.

Studebaker, American Can, General Electric, Associated Dry Goods, Kelly-Springfield, Otis Elevator and Mayer-rose 1 to 1¾ points. Baldwin, Texas Gulf, Mathieson Alkali, Pacific Oil and May Department Stores were driven down 1 to 1¾ points, but recovered partially when the rise became more marked in other representative stocks.

Price changes in Boston were largely fractional. The local market appeared to be marking time, awaiting the establishment of a definite trend in Wall street.

Japanese Loan Has Unusual Distribution

With allotments on the $150,000,000 6½ per cent. Japanese loan arranging around 60 per cent., indicating aggregate subscriptions amounting $250,000,000 unusual distribution was announced. Average total allotment is estimated to have ranged between $3,000 and $7,000. Allotments to corporations aggregated about $4,000,000.

Corporation subscriptions were largely in nature of underwriting the companies standing ready to take over amounts of public issue. With the flood of small subscriptions it was not necessary to call on the corporations for more than a small percentage of their applications.

Securing so wide a distribution is held to augur well for stability of the market for the new 6½s.

REPLIES TO INVESTORS

AMERICAN CAN.

To R. W. R.—American Can Company for 1923 shows surplus of $15,—[illegible] after charges and Federal taxes, equivalent after preferred dividends to $4.72 a share on common, against $10,453,350 or $10.39 a [illegible] and $4,421,501 or $2.76 a share in 1922.

MEXICAN INVESTMENT.

To O. B. K.—Mystery veils the advances in Mexican Investment common from 25¢ to around $2 a share. Some close to the management say Mexican Investment has a "bonanza" in its holdings in the Maracaibo field in South America, those holdings include 25,000 acres on the east side of Lake Maracaibo and 17,000 acres on the west side. No drilling is in progress, but speculative favor is given the enterprise because of the fact that drilling is going on around Mexican Investment holdings. In the year just closed the company is said to have earned the 8 per cent. dividend on the $750,140 preferred stock and about $10,000 for the 71,259 shares of common.

ANACONDA.

To E. O. S.—Anaconda Copper Mining Co. 1923, are reasonably good investment because property securing the issue of $100,000,000 represents more than this sum and because [illegible] have provided an ample margin for interest requirements. This bond is suitable for a part of your capital.

BIGELOW HARTFORD.

To I. A.—Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co. says: "The year just closed has been the largest and most prosperous in the organization of the present company. The plants have been operating at full capacity during the entire year and the volume of business was $35,000,371 as compared with $22,685,873 in 1922. We have a satisfactory amount of advance business on our books that will [illegible] care of the production of both plants well into the opening of another carpet season in the spring, although we detect some hesitation in the carpet industry as compared to the business for the past two years."

"Net earnings for the year after deducting depreciation on plant and the reserve for Federal taxes are, are $4,641,242.68, leaving a balance for surplus after all dividends of $2,043,242.68. All inventories have been taken at not exceeding the cost or the market value if lower. The [illegible] assets consisting of cash, Government securities, accounts and notes receivable and inventories, exceed $12,446,000.

"We have expended for plant improvements and additions during the year $2,000,411, and are committed to other large expenditures during 1924 all of which, when completed materially increase the production and efficiency of both the Thompsonville and Clinton plants.

"Our purchases of preferred stock during the year amounted to 2,585 shares, making a total of 20,927 shares now held in the treasury."

"CHICKIE"

The Beautiful, but Bluntly Honest Story of a Boston Girl

By ELENORE MEHE[illegible]N

Seething Life of a Lovely Boston Girl of This Strange Today

THE STORY OF "CHICKIE" TO DATE

"Chickie" Bryce is the only child in the family. Her sister having died when she was quite young, the parents lavished all their affection on "Chickie." As the story opens, "Chickie" is attending business college and Arthur Soning, one of her classmates, takes her to a dance. "Chickie's" father is afraid of the pitfalls ahead for his daughter, but his fears are soothed by the girl and her mother. "Chickie" is thrilled to the core by the dance, and when Arthur kisses her as he bids her goodnight she believes that she has met "her hero." Mary Blake and "Chickie" blandly discuss love and marriage; Mary says it's too sordid for her, but "Chickie" thinks it will be all kisses and "walking on the mountain tops with her lover by her side." However, "Chickie" is disillusioned about a year later, when Arthur passes her on the street and fails to notice her. At eighteen, "Chickie" secured a position in a broker's office. There she met Janina, a girl worldly wise and one who told the other girls how to "handle" the men. "Chickie" went out with several men, but was not impressed by them. Mary Blake's sister, Lucy, married, and with four children, is an object of her sympathy. Jimmie Blake, after discussing his family, declares his love for "Chickie." A year after her wedding Mary returned to Chicago and not long after a son was born. Chickie is startled by Jimmie's announcement that he is going to Honolulu. Jimmie does not go immediately and in the meantime Chickie sees a peculiarly attractive young man in the office across from hers. A few days later Janina invites her to go on a party with Jake Munson and some of her friends. Jake is the envy of all the girls in Chickie's set.

Her father said softly: "Not going out again tonight, Chickie?"

HE sat bolt upright as though a knife turned in his flesh. But Chickie's lips were soft on his eyes, his grizzled forehead—she whispered gaily: "Hurry, you little old he-Pandora—kiss your angel child good-by."

WORKING WOMEN, WEAK, RUN DOWN SOON RESTORED

Home Treatment of Wincarnis Creates Red Blood, Body Tissue and Vital Nerve Force

Countless thousands of women must work day after day in stores, offices, manufacturing rooms, schools or in their own homes who are really unfit for their tasks. With looms and nerves overstrained they get through each day by will power alone. At night worn and exhausted, life holds little of pleasure for such women.

They should not be content to drag on, making their sacrifice of health, beauty and happiness. They should instead, undertake at once the upbuilding of their bodies; the creation of red blood and flesh tissue that fills out hollow cheeks and wasted forms; that restores nerve resistance and brings back the bloom of health, strength and vitality.

When weighed down by worry and weakness, each woman should begin at once a simple inexpensive home treatment of Wincarnis, the restorative. Then can obtain a generous size bottle of Wincarnis from any leading druggist. Wincarnis is the ideal body and strength builder and is absolutely harmless. More than ten thousand physicians have recommended it.

The Wincarnis treatment costs only ten cents a day. In twelve days see the improvement Wincarnis brings.

Village Which Enshrines Memories of Irish History

IN Irish stories are found frequent references to the rock of Cashel, but tourists who visit Killarney, Giant's Causeway, Dublin and Belfast seldom include Cashel in their itinerary. Nevertheless Cashel is one of the most interesting places in Ireland because of its survival here of interesting memories of early Irish history.

The town itself is little more than a village of three or four thousand souls, though it is still the see of a bishop of the Roman Catholic church.

The storied Rock of Cashel, a small mountain of limestone rising abruptly from the plain to a height of three hundred feet, is occupied by the most interesting collection of ruins in Ireland, which include the remains of St. Patrick's Cathedral, a round tower, Cormac's chapel and an ancient high cross. The chapel, which is said to have been erected by King Cormac McCarthy, in the twelfth century, combines the ancient form of stone roof having chambers between the arch and the vault with the richest Norman decoration. The cathedral was built in the thirteenth century with interesting lancet windows and pointed arches and contains many interesting sculptures and tombs.

In a small cemetery nearby where the ancient kings of Munster were crowned stands on a knoll beside the ruins of Cashel, one of the most famous round towers in Ireland. At the end of the cathedral stands the round tower, which is sixty feet high and fifty feet around. In shape it resembles the round towers which abound in Ireland, particularly in the west. Their origin is lost in antiquity, but they are supposed to have been erected by the Danes in the seventh or eighth centuries as rallying points in case of native uprisings.

According to Irish legends two saints in the sixth century saw an angel bestride the Rock of Cashel and this is being regarded by King Core, Dark Ruler of Munster, he established a stronghold there. In the year 1101 it was given to the Church as King Murkertagh O'Brien. When King Henry II of England visited Ireland he conferred the honorage of O'Brien, King of Limerick there. And once an Irish Parliament assembled at the Rock.

The round tower was stripped by the Earl of Ormonde in 1495, and the Rock was taken by storm by one of Cromwell's generals in 1647. To the Irish peasantry the Rock is still an object of reverence.

TRANSATLANTIC RECORD BY AMATEUR

Haverford College Man in a Two-Way Talk With Four Europeans

Irving R. Smith, a member of the Haverford College Radio Club and operator of 3-OT, located at Ambler, Pa., broke all amateur transatlantic records when he carried on a two-way conversations with four European amateur stations in the short space of three hours. Two of these stations are located in England, and one in Holland.

At 11:15 p. m., Eastern standard time, Smith heard NPAS (a Dutch station) sending out a CQ, which in radio means is an invitation to transmit. He replied, and the Dutch station came back immediately, after which contact was established across the Atlantic with as much ease as though the two stations were only several hundred miles apart.

After conversing with the Hollander, who understood English, Smith was called by a British station, G2-BZ, and no trouble was experienced in making communication with the new arrival. Perfect communication was maintained for over an hour. By the time other British stations were listening in on the transmission, and shortly two more, G2-SZ and G-6-OD were talking with the American station.

Contact between 3-OT and the foreign stations continued until 2:30 a. m. (which was daylight in England)

One of the British operators informed Smith that he would try telephony and his voice was heard faintly across the 2,000 miles of water.

USED 50-WATT TUBE.

Though this is not the first time that amateurs have talked across the Atlantic, it is the first time in which an American amateur has communicated with several European stations in a single evening, without a prearranged schedule.

Another unusual feature in connection with the record is that only one 50-watt tube was used at the American station.

The antenna system at 3-OT is not unusual, but is very effective. The aerial is a 6 wire "flat top" 66 feet long, and 65 feet high. Directly beneath the aerial is a counterpoise of eight wires stretched in the shape of a fan 6 feet by 6 feet on the ground.

The transmitting set is installed in a barn and is remotely controlled from the house. The Hartley oscillating current is used and the antenna current is 2.5 amperes under normal operating conditions.

AN ELABORATE RADIO SET

When the country was "wet" Herbert Uhlein, Milwaukee clubman and millionaire, devoted about all his attention to the management of the Schlitz Brewery, at Milwaukee, which he owned. Now he busies himself with his home radio and his dry batteries.

JAPAN NOW TO HAVE RADIO BROADCASTING

Listeners Have to Pay $1 Yearly for Each Receiver

Japan has opened the air to private radio broadcasting without discrimination against foreign enterprise or materials.

The new regulations provide that a continuous wave system may be employed for sets of 500 watts being required for broadcasting low miles on wave lengths of 360 and 385 meters, with one and a half kilowatts. For maximum distance of 20 miles on wave lengths 215 and 235 meters, with 250 watts, the fee is 30 yen annually.

Broadcast receivers for use on 200, 250, 350 and 400 meters require a fee equal to two yen or about $1 a year. Applicants for licenses are advised to file a prospectus, specifications, expenditure planned and estimated returns with the Minister of Communications. The tariff on radio imports is expected to be about 25 per cent.

In Mexico permits are required for erecting transmitting stations and listeners-in are required to keep silent when government messages are heard.

Operation of receiving sets in Mexico is still covered by the provisions of the decree of 1915. A permit must be secured from the Department of Communications before the station can be established a penalty of 500 to 1,000 pesos and from ten to eleven months imprisonment being provided for violation of this requirement. Provision is also made for the punishment of persons who, reading a transmitted message of the government, disclose it.

As soon as the prevailing "hot weather" season in Uruguay radio development will start up again and apparatus will be in demand. A new broadcasting station is planned in Montevideo, supplementing the work of the Buenos Aires station.

The Listener

Woman announcers are apt to fool you if you don't look at their profile," brought in a station the other night, and listened to get the call letters. The woman began to speak and I thought I was going to hear a talk on "How to Please Your Husband" or "The Latest Styles from Paris," and was just going to swing the dial when I discovered she was announcing for WLAG in Minneapolis.

I notice WJAR in Providence has adopted the Shepard Stores method of signing off each night by playing "Taps" on a set of specially designed orchestra bells.

Wendell Hall, the famous "Red Headed Music Maker," and author of the song, "It Ain't Gonna Rain no More," is now on tour. He is the leading broadcast stations through out the country. He has been at WCAO in Baltimore and at WCAP in Washington, and now is at WSB at Atlanta, Ga. Next week he will be in Chicago at KYW.

WJAX in Cleveland comes in good anyhow, but with their new antenna stuck up some 375 feet above street level it ought to come in better still. They are moving into the twelfth floor of the new Union Trust Building, the second largest building and office building of its kind in the world.

The days of hiring an expensive dance orchestra are giving way to the new days of hiring a radio operated loud speaker and the other necessary apparatus for good radio reception. If almost said "operator" instead of operator, but I would be read out of the radio union. The Girls Friendly Society of St. Chrysostom's Episcopal Church in Wollaston will dance to music from the Copley Plaza next Saturday in this way.

700-MILE RADIO DEBATE ON THE WAY

Portland, Ore., A radio debate with the two sides 700 miles apart, said to be the first in the history of broadcasting, has been announced by the debating teams of the University of Oregon and the University of California to take place Friday, Feb. 29. The Oregon team will be heard from KGW at Portland, while the California team will broadcast from KLX in Oakland. The subject is the Bok Peace Plan.

Radio Receiving Conditions Tonight

Reception in Boston of programs broadcasted from Middle West and Southern Canada stations should be good during the early hours tonight. A low pressure area which is working up the Eastern Atlantic coast will impair conditions late tonight.

Radio Queries

I would like to know how I can increase my volume and also get more selection, as I have had only about twenty stations.—P. J. F.

It would seem from the list of stations that you submit that the trouble is not in your set but in the location or else you have not a good ground. If you are using a grid leak try it without it, as it may. Sometimes also a UV 201A tube in place of a 200 seems to give better results.

What causes the noise when I hit the front of my set on the Super? Also I do not get any volume on distance stations.—C. H.

It looks like a loose connect from the coil you describe it. You cannot expect volume on distance using UV 199 tubes. Use UV 201 A tubes in the Super for best results.

What can I do to stop my sizzle circuit set from radiating and causing interference?—H. K. T.

Try a muffler circuit or else wind six turns directly over your coil. Then disconnect the two wires which run to your antenna and ground binding posts. Now connect the two ends of the six turn coil, one end to the antenna post and the other end to ground post. You will now have a three circuit set, and the tuning will be much sharper. The amount of trouble that you will cause to your neighbors will be very much reduced, and you will expect volume on distance using UV 199 tubes. Use UV 201 A tubes in the Super for best results.

ONE-TON CABINET FOR TRANSMITTER

The radio transmitter which forms the heart of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute broadcasting station WHAZ is contained in a large black steel cabinet weighing a ton, in which are installed the vacuum tubes, filters, relays, resistances and other auxiliary apparatus. The antenna relay is mounted on top of this framework. Four 250 watt vacuum tubes and one 50 watt tube are used for transmitting. A filament current of 6.25 amperes is supplied from a constant potential generator.

The frequency of the transmitted energy wave length is controlled by the value of the inductance in the oscillatory system, which includes the antenna. This inductance is varied by means of a variable coil meter. The movable coil also serves to vary the coupling between the antenna circuit and that portion of the oscillatory circuit which contains the plates and grids of the oscillator tubes.

CODE INTERFERENCE STILL BAD IN BRITAIN

British broadcast listeners are troubled even more by code than American amateurs were in the days before various regulations and agreements combined to reduce such interference.

It is now admitted by radio authorities in the British Isles that the code interference has been the means of retarding the development of radio program broadcasting in England.

The vast amount of shipping confined to the narrow limits of the English Channel and other waters near the British Isles has made the interference particularly more acute than it ever was on this side of the Atlantic. Even the broadening of the wave-length ranges of the broadcasting station until they fill the band between 303 meters and 485 meters has not particularly helped the situation.

"DREAM DADDY" MAN WILL VISIT BOSTON

Everyone knows the answer to the question, "Where does a ball player go when he has a day off?" Yes, that's it; he goes to a ball game.

This same spectacle presents itself in the announcement from Philadelphia that Harry E. Ehrhart, nationally famous as "Dream Daddy," the bedtime story teller at WDAR, will spend his mid-Winter vacation this year in a tour of the principal broadcasting stations of the Middle West and East. He will be accompanied by Carl Zoehrer, one of the co-authors of the song "Dream Daddy."

The trip began with the first stop at KDKA, Pittsburgh last night. The following cities will be visited: Louisville, Cincinnati, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Buffalo, Schenectady, Springfield, Mass., Boston, Medford Hillside, New York and Newark.

Light Your Home by Radio! Coming Soon Says Professor

London, Feb. 19.—Television may not be developed to the point of accuracy for another generation because of the great intricacy of the problem involved, but the transmission of light by wireless may be expected in the not distant future, according to Professor A. M. Low.

Professor Low, whose research for British officials is well known, is now devoting himself to the study of light with the aim of reducing the cost of electric incandescence, in which he finds there is a 95 per cent. wastage.

"There is no reason," he says, "why light as such or as power should not be transmitted by wireless. Comparatively little is known about wireless, but we do know that light and wireless travel at the same speed. I believe there is so great similarity that if a wireless wavelength were reduced, say one-thousandth of a millimeter in length, wireless would be perfectly visible."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. F. X. MAHONEY, Boston Health Commissioner.

IF your child is not feeling well do not send him to school.

When sickness or indisposition comes, do not hesitate about calling your physician. Promptness in this matter will save time, expense and trouble. Any sickness among your children should at once be reported to your physician. Overcrowded cars and halls are not the proper surroundings for the infant or child.

Mahoney.

If you see the child's guardian, guard it against disease direct it on the pathways of health and strength.

If a contagious disease breaks out in the household, do not send the other children away from home. Keep them indoors until the physician arrives.

Sore throats, running noses, rashes, etc., are often forerunners of disease. It is your duty to detect these symptoms and provide for them. Do not be guilty of culpable negligence.

The instructions you receive from the health department medical inspector are for the benefit of your child and the community.

Heed what he says, read the literature that he leaves you and keep the sick child isolated. Never touch the sign or card that is put on your door at a warning to contagious disease.

Children at home must be afforded just as much protection as the child in school. The good of all is concerned. Medical inspection will discover all cases of communicable disease. Do not try to hide them. Report them at once to the school teacher or to your physician.

Help to protect your child and every child by active co-operation with the health department.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED

If milk or air is not dangerous, why is it that so many think it is? P. L.

I don't know that people say right many things that are not true, but they do believe foolish things. Milk is a good food, but it is a food by no means unobjectionable, but the air of a sickroom, foreign food is both. In a closed room the sleeper soon breathes over the supply of oxygen, and the meals are given extra and unnecessary room.

Are flies a means of spreading typhoid fever and how? T. J. B.

Much of the spread of typhoid is due to flies. Flies carry germs to the food supply or to the individual. It is carried by them on their feet and in their bodies, and may deposit the germs on anything on which they alight.

What action has barley water mixed with milk for infant feeding? M. O'B.

The use of barley water to dilute the baby's milk serves to soften the curds of the milk more digestible.

URGES WAR ON TELLS MOTHERS RADICALS BY TO GIVE BABY ELKS ORDER A CHANCE

Grand Exalted Ruler McFarland Says America Needs Their Help

Build a Foundation for Its Health and Start Right, Says Dr. Bolt

"Let us practice what we preach. As Elks, we have the four cardinal points of our order set up before us as standards; let us actively apply them in the life of today more fully than ever before, great and inspiring as our past services to God, the United States and our fellow-men have been."

So pleaded James G. McFarland of Watertown, S. D., Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks, speaking at the Copley-Plaza, at a dinner given in his honor by the Massachusetts Elks' Association.

"I tell you, brothers," he continued, "that as never before America needs the active practice of the virtues of Elkdom. On every hand are insidious enemies strenuously striving to tear down the very fabric of the Government of the United States, Bolshevist, I. W. W., anarchist—radicals of every sort and description are taking advantage of the blessed right of free speech and the free press to attack the principles of our Democracy."

Daniel J. Kane, exalted ruler of Boston Lodge, toastmaster, dwelt upon the Americanization work that the order is conducting.

Dr. Bolt urged the instruction of mothers in child health through Parent-Teachers' Associations and mothers' clubs using a well-planned study outline.

Richard Augustus Bolt, medical director of the American Child Health Association, in his talk before mothers, physicians and social workers in Jacob Sleeper Hall, Boston University, issued a number of health rules concerning the rearing of babies which included:

Keep the baby out of crowds. Keep him away from other children who have baby diseases.

Do not allow promiscuous kissing and fondling.

Keep his playthings clean. Do not let them roll around the germ-laden pavements.

Let him sleep in his own bed, and not with adults.

Give him plenty of fresh moving air.

Carefully supervise his nutrition to build up resistance against tuberculosis and other diseases.

"The prevention of heart disease is another pre-school problem," he pointed out. "Between 80 and 90 per cent. of the cases of heart disease in childhood is due to infectious diseases such as diphtheria and scarlet fever."

An Automobile Is an Investment

And It Lasts

Copyright, 1924, Star Co.

You have heard of ancient "horseless carriages" all driven by students of the Stevens Institute of Technology. The winner was a foreign car, twenty-four years old.

There ought to be more of these contests to show the public how long an automobile can live if you will let it.

The first Ford car is said to be still running. Many American cars, ten, twelve and fifteen years old, are exactly as good, apart from an "old-fashioned" look, as on the day they were made.

An automobile is an investment, and there is no such thing as a "pleasure car."

Every car pays for itself in health and time saving on a perfect business basis.

You ought to see the automobiles of many kinds and of many GOOD kinds at the automobile shows, or in the showrooms of the various automobile concerns, which contain an automobile show all the year round.

A family without an automobile is a family without the most important thing in FAMILY LIFE, apart from the roof that covers the family.

And very many for months at a time make of their automobile both the family home and the family traveling machine. Whole families go in Summer where it is cool, or in Winter to the California coast or the Southern States and spend the months traveling, with the car and a tent attached that goes with it, taking the place of home and hotel.

Do you doubt that the car is actually AN INVESTMENT and a first-class investment?

It saves time; that means it makes life LONGER. Surely that's a good investment.

It takes you out to the country where you see your own land, see the sky and the trees, and above all where you get FRESH AIR. That surely is a good INVESTMENT.

The automobile keeps the family UNITED, all members of the family can enjoy the same pleasure at the same time, on the four wheels filled with air. And that ABOVE all is a good investment.

If yours is a family without an automobile, make up your mind to end that situation. GET YOUR CAR NOW.

A Splendid Experiment

Mr. Bauer's Fellowship Class

Our active fellow citizen, Mr. Ralph Bauer of Lynn, is still busy doing new things, we learn. The latest is the organization of a non-sectarian men's Sunday school class. It is called the Men's Fellowship Class. It meets at 9:30 every Sunday morning and is conducted for three-quarters of an hour.

Recently it was addressed by Rev. Dr. Garfield Morgan on the spiritualism in the public career of Woodrow Wilson. There were 180 present at the meeting. They ranged from 18 to 70 in age; they included Jews and Gentiles, Catholics and Protestants and several races. Among those who were noticed in the audience was the superintendent of public schools, the headmaster of the Lynn Classical and the president of the largest bank in Lynn. At every meeting the engineer who brings the Boston & Albany train to Boston at 6.30 in the morning is found at 9:30 in his seat at this Sunday morning meeting in Lynn. Almost every walk in life is represented.

The object of the class is to promote good fellowship and good citizenship both in our relations to each other and in our relations to the public weal. The attendance has been incomparably greater than attendance at any ordinary churchmen's class.

It is a splendid experiment. We shall be interested to see how long it will continue after Bauer's active hand has been withdrawn from it. There ought to be room for a class of this kind in every city and town in the State. Meetings ought to be held, not only on Sunday, but also on evenings during the week. Men are attending this class who say they have not been inside of a church for twenty-five years. They are not irreligious men, they are simply men whose wants the conventional church services have not fulfilled.

Are there not some more Bauers in some other cities and towns who will start the same successful experiment?

They Cry "Wolf" Again

Cotton Mill Men on Beacon Hill as Usual

Some of the Massachusetts cotton mills are now, as usual, before the Massachusetts Legislature asking for a retrogression in the labor conditions required by law in their factories.

And as usual their cry of "wolf" is Southern competition, as it has been their cry for many years. But like the fabulous wolf, it has never yet come.

Now, the wolf did finally come in the fable, and the boy who cried "wolf" falsely so many times lost his life, because those who had turned out to protect him when he first cried "wolf" ceased to believe his cries and left him to his fate.

And the wolf in the shape of the competition of Southern mills some day may come to destroy our Massachusetts mills. But if it does, it will be the fault of those who have cried "wolf" falsely so often.

National legislation compelling the Southern States to raise the standards of working conditions in the cotton mills south of the Mason and Dixon line could easily be passed if the Northern manufacturers, who are so constantly pretending to be frightened at the prospect of Southern competition, would seriously unite and seriously attempt to get the desired legislation.

In the meantime, on the argument itself as reported in the newspapers, the labor representatives seem to have had the best of it. The forty-eight-hour law for women and children is the particular object of attack.

The labor representatives showed that Southern competition had begun long before this law was passed, and had continued to spread before the forty-eight-hour law was passed in Massachusetts. They declared our cotton mills were more prosperous here than in Rhode Island, where this Massachusetts mare's nest does not exist.

LISTEN, WORLD! -:- By ELSIE ROBINSON

ALL snobs are detestable, but I do believe that the most detestable snobs are those to be found in my own class, amongst the people who live in and by books. I would not belittle books by a syllable. I give them my love, gratitude and deep respect. I have clung to books through my life as one clings to the warm, strong hand of a friend. But I protest that the standard which judges folks by their degree of literary culture is a false and snobbish standard.

Take Dorothy, for instance, Dorothy Havens is a fine woman, sensitive, intelligent—a lover of beauty. If Dorothy had been born in the slums and bred in ignorance, she might have been a useful and sympathetic human being. But instead Dorothy had five years at Vassar and two years abroad. As a consequence, she is about as fitted to human nature's daily need as a dose of cyanide. Dorothy is so steeped in the cult of books that anything which doesn't smell of a half morocco binding doesn't circulate in her class.

The beauty and mystery of a strange soul are entirely obscured to Dorothy if that soul happens to use a split infinitive. There are doubtless well meaning human beings who have never read Tavelock Ellis, Ibsen or Freud, but, though she would permit them to live, Dorothy is secretly convinced that they belong to a lower order of biology. As for those dumb spirits who have never heard of any literature outside the Funnies or the Police Gazette, they are simply vegetables as far as Miss Havens is concerned.

Now I'll admit that it's useful to know a split infinitive when you meet one. I rarely do myself, but it must be a handy knack. And if you have time it won't hurt you to delve into Ellis or Shaw or snortle a bit over Mencken. But at best such knowledge is only a second-rate approach to Life. In his book, "Social Life in the Insect World," Fabre makes the following statement:

"A LITTLE ANIMATED SLIME, CAPABLE OF PLEASURE AND PAIN, SURPASSES IN INTEREST THE UNIVERSE OF DEAD MATTER."

"A little animated slime"—to Dorothy Havens that is the proper classification of the unlettered workers who pass her on the street, the fishermen and cobblers, the factory hands, stevedores, the ignorant young wives, haggling over cabbage and carrots. Beauty and wisdom lie elsewhere for Dorothy. Because these people do not speak her vernacular, she believes that they neither suffer nor rejoice, dream nor rebel as she does. Yet, if she but knew, their spirits function exactly as hers function, and no book, however wise, could enrich her experience as greatly as a study of their lives. In that drab pageant which spurns lies the source of all wisdom, the goal of all endeavor, the answer to all human hunger. The man who knows other men is the wisest man on earth. He may be a poor ditch digger, vulgar, untraveled and unread, but if he understands his fellow laborers and can sway them to his will, he is more educated than Dorothy with her split-infinitive test of character.

One of the most powerful, intelligent and truly cultured women I have ever known was an Italian midwife in a remote Sierra mining camp. She had never gone to school, had never seen a train, nor heard a lecture, nor read a book. She could not even sign her own name. But she had awakened Life and stayed the hand of Death. She knew the elements which fed the souls of men and the problems which assail them as she knew the ingredients of her simple peasant cookery. From years of toil she had distilled a mellow philosophy. She was a truly great human being. She knew nothing about infinitives, but she had already laid hold of affinity. I wonder what Dorothy would have thought of her.

Is there someone who has a wheel chair that they can give a widow? She has been ill and in bed for almost two months with pneumonia. She has had a bad leg for five years. She is sixty-two years old. While she cannot afford to buy a chair, she could pay a small amount for one. MRS. B.

Very Much in Need

Editor Helping Hand:

Can you please find a space in your column for a family very much in need? My husband has been sick but has gone back to work now. But all the children are home sick and I am just barely able to get around myself after having had the grippe. My baby is only eight weeks old. If I could go to work myself I would not ask. I have a boy ten, home from school as his feet are on the ground. He wears size 3½, and the girl wears size 1. Has anyone a baby carriage for my little one eight weeks old, as she has not been out yet?

DR. FRANK CRANE ON THE SOIL OF MANKIND

By Dr. Frank Crane

INSTEAD of speaking of the soul of man we might speak of the soil of man.

Our acts, words and emotions are but flowers and fruits that spring from the kind of seeds we have been planting in our soil.

Sometimes you can easily see this because the plant is of such rapid growth that there is an unmistakable connection between seed and fruit.

As for instance, the flower of anger is apparent almost immediately after some seed of offence or injustice has been planted within us. Other times the growth is slower. If we read books of gloom and cynicism by and by we reap gloomy moods and the expression of cynical ideas. If we associate with the lewd and reckless, if they win our affections and succeed in planting their unclean germs in our mind, it is not long before we begin ourselves to bear that kind of fruit.

But besides these seeds which we can easily trace there are others that lie deeper. There are seeds that have lain a long time in our sub-soil, seeds that were implanted in our nature by our ancestors.

Much of our crop of today has sprouted from the sowing of heredity.

The care of our soil requires a good deal of deep plowing and persistent weeding.

Man is a time-binding animal. That is, he comes into existence carrying the legacy of ages gone. He did not begin at his birth. He is the sprout of a tree that was planted millions of years ago.

In your nature today there is some legacy, not only from your grandparents, but from remoter forebears from the middle ages, of the days of ancient Rome, of the epoch when human beings were mowing savages and still farther on back.

The problem of life is not a mere matter of present decision. The most important part of our concern is the digging, harrowing, fertilizing, watering and other care of that soil in us from which all volition springs.

It is idle to ask whether we are responsible for our heredity or to claim that we are not to blame for the soil of which we are composed. The problem before us is not one of settling responsibilities, but of doing what we can to insure our happiness and wholesome growth.

If our inward soil is sour and barren we must enrich it.

If it is full of the seeds of perversion we must weed them out.

And it is well to keep in mind, if we are plagued by many weeds, that only the soil that grows strong weeds is capable of growing beautiful flowers and wholesome fruit.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON EVOLUTION

By Garrett P. Serviss

THREE New York Judges, of Supreme Court and Appellate Court rank, gave a unanimous decision the other night in favor of the negative at the close of a debate between two clergymen on the formal proposition: "Resolved, That the earth and man came by evolution."

But this may not be as bad as it looks, for probably the decision was based, not on the merits of the case itself, but on the merits of the presentation of the respective sides. Dr. Straton, the successful debater, shrewdly intrenched himself behind the "burden of proof" convention, which he would have found a very awkward thing to deal with if his opponent had got behind it first. The latter seems to have bowed to the right of the first taker, and Dr. Straton kept his advantage.

The winner of the debate is reported to have made such assertions as that, without the story of creation told in the Book of Genesis, there is no way to account for the beginning of the earth! And that, "unless the Bible account of the creation of man is true, we know absolutely nothing about the way in which men appeared upon this planet!" The gap between dead matter and sentient life has never been bridged except by guesses"!

After that read the Genesis account itself. Does it say, anywhere, that it is "the word of God"? It makes dogmatic statements as to what God did, but it bears no verification stamp and offers no evidence, either in support of its specific assertions or concerning its right to be regarded as a presentation of the only and the full truth.

On the contrary, it bears on its face the marks of what Dr. Straton, if he were on the other side in the controversy, would denominate "guessing." It is a theory of cosmogony, suited to the time of its composition. But what is most remarkable about it is its reconciliation of the principle of evolution!

Except here and there, where figurative expression is used to vivify the narrative, God is never represented as personally, and "with his hands," creating any thing whatever.

In verses 11 and 12 of the first chapter of Genesis we are told that God said: "Let the earth bring forth grass," etc., and "the earth brought forth grass," etc., and God saw that it was good." Could there be a plainer statement that God worked by law, i. e., by evolution, and not by discontinuous performances with his "own hands?" He implanted the principle, or the seeds, of life in the earth itself, and when the earth had obeyed the law and "brought forth" living things, God examined the product and found that it was all right, and that the principle of evolution by which he intended to develop the earth and its creatures, was sound and suitable for his purposes. Can you interpret what Genesis says in any more evident sense than that?

But this is not all. Go on, and, from verse 20 forward, see how God called upon first the waters and then the land to "bring forth abundantly." To be sure, in later verses it is said that "God created," or "God made" these things, but the context shows plainly that these subordinate statements are only figurative repetitions of the general truth already told, and are intended for simple minds, as we write fables with only a heart of fact, to suit the mentality of children.

And then we come to verse 26.28, in which the creation of man is described; but, while the phrase about "bringing forth" is not again repeated, but God is only said to have "created" them, yet is it possible to assume any fundamental distinction in the method? He made man "in His own image." Surely that does not apply simply to the human form, which is only a special case of the vertebrate mammalian form, as a circle is a special case of the ellipse. What is distinctive of man is brain development, and if there is anything whatever that science has proved it is the gradual evolution of the brain from the reptilian up to the human stage.

EVER TRY YOURSELF OUT BY ANOTHER LINE?

Mediocre in his line—though he knew what was required for good salesmanship, after doing considerable thinking, a man came to the conclusion that if he could get the agency for some article in which he would have faith he might direct persons in selling it.

He tried the experiment and before many years retired independent.

Possibly something of this sort might work out for you.

Starting out in a small way, you could place your salesmen on a commission basis, enough to make the proposition attractive.

Map out a sort of selling campaign and give them the line of talk you think would win sales.

Do not try to do the selling yourself, if you are not proficient. Give your entire time to managing—make yourself valuable by thinking it out for the others, yourself included.

Good salesmen, frequently, have not ability, or the desire, to do anything else.

Men of this sort can make money for you, and you can give them the opportunity by using your head.
